BLOCK AND COUNCIL OPPOSED TO ANY TROLLEY TRACK ABANDONMENT PLAN

Mayor Calls Attention to Rumors Circulating in City—Council Committee to Take up City Zoning—Several Damage Claims Against City—Other Matters.

Mayor Morris Block sent in a communication Thursday evening to the common council calling attention to the fact that at the present time there were a number of rumors circulating in Kingston regarding the trolley road's petition for a ten cent fare now before the public service commission, that it would be recommended that parts of the present trolley system would be suspended, eliminated or abandoned, and suggested that the council go on record as opposed to any such plan.

Acting on the mayor's suggestion Alderman Edinger of the Ninth ward offered a resolution that the council was opposed to any suspension, elimination or abandonment of any part of the present trolley system and that the public service commission be notified of that fact and asked to take it into consideration in reaching a determination in the matter. The resolution was adopted.

City Zoning.

Mayor Block called the attention of the council to a request from the Chamber of Commerce asking that a committee from the council be appointed to meet with a committee from the Chamber of Commerce to take up the question of city zoning, and recommended that the laws and rules committee of the council be so empowered to serve. The mayor's recommendation was adopted. The mayor's suggestion that interested taxpayers of the city be asked to serve with the two committees was also approved.

Receives $1,200 Damages.

John L. MacKinnon of No. 216 Albany avenue, through his attorney, Floyd W. Powell, filed a claim for damages against the city of $1,200, for injuries received in a fall through an open area on Fair street in front of the Cordis building, opposite the Kingston Opera House. It was referred to the auditing committee and Corporation Counsel Jenkins.

Wants $700 From City.

Elliott Schoonmaker of 174 Clifton avenue, through his attorneys, Fowler and Loughran, filed a claim of $700 for damages against the city, which was also referred to the auditing committee and Corporation Counsel Jenkins.

Mr. Krier Has Claim.

Edward M. Krier of 185 Wurts street, sent in a communication calling attention to the fact that the other morning his wife slipped and fell on Broadway and was removed to the Kingston City Hospital in the ambulance with a broken leg. He stated he believed that at the proper time he should be reimbursed for the cost of the accident as he felt that it was due to the city's negligence. The communication was referred to Corporation Counsel Jenkins.

Busses and Crossings.

D. J. Murphy of this city sent in a communication in which he stated that under the state law all auto busses were required to come to a complete stop before crossing a railroad track, but that this was not being done, and that steps should be taken to make the bus owners comply with the law's provisions.

Disturbed Church Services.

Alderman Everett, of the Eleventh ward, said that while on the matter of busses he would like to call the attention of the council to the matter of auto busses disturbing church services on Sunday in the churches, especially the Fair Street Reformed Church and the St. James M. E. Church. He said that the busses in approaching the trolley tracks would signal so loudly that they could be heard for seven or more blocks. This unnecessary noise could be eliminated by the busses slowing up for the street intersections, and he offered a resolution to that effect, which was adopted and ordered forwarded to the police board.

A New Bus Committee.

Alderman J. Philip Belcher said that he believed the presiding officer should appoint a bus committee. Last year the council had such a committee.

Want to Deed Street.

A communication was received from Attorney Philip Eiting that the Wilbur Company of Boston was willing to deed Wrentham street, a new street off Albany avenue and close to the city line, to the city. The communication was referred to the committee on laws and rules and the corporation counsel to report back at the next meeting as to whether the city should accept the deed or not.

TURBID STREET FOLKS LIKE "ELMWOOD" BETTER

Tubby street residents, according to Alderman James J. Sweeney of the Third ward, are not exactly satisfied with the cognomen bestowed in years gone by on that street, and are very anxious to have the name changed to one that smacks more of refinement. A name that suits a majority of the folks on Tubby street is Elmwood street.

Alderman Sweeney is nothing if not obliging and Thursday evening introduced a resolution at the common council session asking that Tubby street be changed to Elmwood. President E. J. Dempsey, however, suggested that the better plan would be for the residents of Tubby street to file a petition with the council asking for a change in name and then the council could take action in the matter.

And there the matter rests.

City Sowers Completed.

The board of public works reported the completion of the Tubby street and Hemlock avenue sewer at a total cost of $3,881.82, of which amount property owners interested pay 75 per cent of the cost, or $2,911.42, and the city the balance. The council took the necessary action to have a special assessment made.

The Elizabeth street sewer is also completed at a total cost of $1,048.20, of which amount the taxpayers interested pay $786.15 and the city the balance. The same action was taken.

Motions and Resolutions.

The following motions and resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper boards and city departments:

By Alderman Reichert—That the privilege of using the vault in the present police gym, in the former board of health office, be granted to the city treasurer and the water board; that water be installed on Westm street and Clarendon avenue; that Westm street, Clarendon avenue and Foxhall Manor, leading from Albany avenue, be put in passable condition in spring; that property owners on the east side of Brown avenue be notified to repair concrete sidewalks; that as soon as the weather permits something be done in Wilkewick avenue; that a fire alarm box be placed at end of city line on Albany avenue; that city engineer prepare plans and specifications for extension of a sewer from Elmendorf street along Flacush avenue to West Shore; that mayor and corporation counsel confer with U. D. R. H. with respect to eliminating high board fences over Albany avenue and Elmendorf street viaducts.

By Alderman Neice—That electric light be moved to in front of No. 23 or 25, and placed on a telephone pole.

By Alderman Joy—That an arc light be placed at Newkirk avenue and Chambers street; that East Pierpont street, St. Mary's street and Newkirk avenue be repaved.

By Alderman Seitz—That city clerk be directed to have 100 copies of rules of 1924 printed.

By Alderman James J. Sweeney—That building committee of council take up and investigate matter of installing new grates in city hall boiler so that a saving could be made in the coal bill; that Tubby street be depressed and rolled; that brush on Hemlock avenue be cut as it grew to height of 15 feet, and that street be depressed and rolled; that two incandescent lights be placed on Hemlock avenue; that lights on honor roll in front of city hall be looked after; and that Florence street be lighted and water main extended in it.

The council then adjourned.

Corporation Election

The stockholders of the Lawrence Cement Company, at their annual meeting held in this city, February 6, elected as inspectors Severn B. Carle and Raymond C. Van Buren.

At the election for directors the following were chosen: Ernest R. Ackerman, Marion S. Ackerman, John A. Stewart, Jr., Frank H. Smith, Marion S. Ackerman Jr.

Wilson Memorial Service.

The morning service at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church on Sunday will take the form of a memorial service for former President Woodrow Wilson. The music will be appropriate, and an address will be given by the pastor, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole.

Shopmen Back at Work.

Some of the men who had been laid off for some time, returned to work today at the repair shops of the West Shore railroad in the north yard.

"You Know Me Al" Club Here

But This Is Only Club No. 1—Embryo Organizers Of Another Club Claim Original Ownership Of Idea.

Local Democratic politics took a new turn Thursday night with the formation of an "Al. Smith for President Club" which developments may require to be designated as "Al's Club No. 1." A "No. 2" club is said to be in process of formation, and already there are arguments over the question of whether the Smith Club idea should be credited to the No. 1 or No. 2 Club.

No. 1 Club will be chairman by Judge James Jenkins. No. 2 Club is understood to have the strong personal backing of former Mayor Roscoe Irwin, whose plans for a "You know me, Al." Club are said to have been going along smoothly when the "You know me, too, Al." Club sprang into existence under the chairmanship of Judge Jenkins.

Both sets of club organizers claim to be entitled exclusively to the use of the "You know me, Al." slogan, but are prepared to back up their claims, if necessary, by changing the slogan to "You know me, too." The recent presence in Kingston of former State Highway Superintendent C. Gordon Reel has no significance with the formation of either Club No. 1 or Club No. 2, but both clubs are expected to rely upon him for advice and influence.

City Chairman James J. Murphy presented the resolutions organizing the "You know me, Al." Club No. 1 which will be offered as follows: Judge James Jenkins, chairman; Thomas E. Coughlin, secretary; E. Frank Flanagan, treasurer. In selecting these officers, Judge Jenkins was sponsored by Lucius Dunne, Mr. Coughlin by City Committee Chairman James J. Murphy, and Mr. Flanagan by Supervisor David Brown.

Speeches were made by Judge Jenkins and City Judge Harry E. Schrick along the well known "You know me, Al." lines, and some remarks of like character were made by Mrs. Robert Moore, formerly of New York City. Thomas J. Comerford also spoke along the same general course and paid a tribute to President Woodrow Wilson.

Resolutions of respect concerning President Wilson were adopted.

In order to provide for worthy Democrats in case plans do not materialize for the "You know me, Al." Club No. 2, a resolution was adopted that the roll of members be left open, so that all who desire to join the club may do so by forwarding their names and addresses to the secretary. The president was empowered to prepare a list of vice presidents.

Party Convention Dates Are Fixed

Interest in state national politics will soon be awakened as Tuesday, April 1, will be spring primary day when the voters will choose delegates and alternates to the state conventions of the leading parties, and members of the state committees.

The Republican state convention will be held in Town Hall, New York city, on April 15 and 16, that date being fixed on Tuesday, February 5, at a meeting of the Republican state committee, held in New York that day. It was decided to start the state convention on the night of April 15, in the Town Hall and to continue it through the following day.

The keynote orator and the permanent chairman are yet to be selected. The principal business of the convention will be the selection of seven delegates at large and seven alternates at large to the Republican National convention to be held June 10, at Cleveland, Ohio.

The Democratic State Committee met Thursday afternoon at the National Democratic Club, 233 Madison avenue, New York city, and fixed April 15, as the date for the state convention of that party, to be held in Old Follies' Hall, Albany, when eight delegates at large and seven alternates to the National convention will be held in New York city. It will be selected. Roscoe Irwin of Albany and this city it is said desires to be one of the "Big 5."

GANDHI NOT ESPECIALLY BITTER AT ENGLISHMEN.

Bombay, Feb. 8.—Mohandas Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader, who was released from prison where he was serving six years, today issued a public letter saying:

"There must be unity in the land. Industry is our only remedy for pauperism. We should have no leisure for fighting. Englishmen are our friends. Do not treat them as enemies. Our struggle is against the system on which the British government rests—not against Englishmen."

DISCONTINUE SOME BUS TRIPS TO PINE HILL.

On and after Tuesday February 12, the trips of the Pine Hill-Kingston autobus line now leaving Kingston at 10 a. m., and Pine Hill at 2 p. m., will be discontinued until further notice. The bus carrying school children leaving Phenicia at 7:30 a. m., the bus leaving Pine Hill at 7:45 a. m., daily, and the one leaving Kingston at 4:30 p. m., will run as usual.

World's First Gas Execution Ghastly Affair

Chinese Murderer, Tied in Chair, Gasp and Struggles for Six Minutes in Nevada's Lethal Chamber.

WITNESSES DRIVEN AWAY From Observation Posts by Escaping Hydrocyanic Gas—Victim Didn't Suffer, Say Experts.

Nevada State Prison, Carson City, Nevada, Feb. 8.—In the first lethal gas execution in the world's history, Gee Jon, Chinese tong slayer was gassed by the state of Nevada at 9:46 a. m. today.

The death march started at 9:40. The Chinese was dragged across the prison yard by two guards. Gee Jon was tied into the chair. He was facing the witnesses. The condemned man was calm as the things were placed around his legs and waist and his hands were strapped to his sides. Then the gas was applied.

Ammonia soaked handkerchiefs were brought to the witnesses by prison guards. Official witnesses were driven from the windows by the gas fumes. The Chinese was gasping for breath. His eyes rolled, he flung his head back and then forward. The gas fumes were streaming into the witnesses, who pushed back into the outer crowd.

At 9:48 he was still moving his head forward on his breast. At 9:49 he was still alive and breathing. Gee Jon ceased to move six minutes after the gas jet was turned on. His eyes were closed. Major Turner, army gas expert, said he was still breathing. The gas fumes on the outside were strong. And the witnesses were coughing and opening their mouths.

Gee Jon's head moved up and down when the gas was applied but the agony was very slight. He was unconscious at the first whiff, Major Turner said.

The Chinese moved his stomach back and forth as he struggled with death. No cries could be heard. Before the man was led to his death he battled the guards, but when he was placed in the death chair he was resolute and made no signs of weakness.

At 9:55 o'clock he was still in the death house. His hunched body, with his head on his breast, was held in the chair by the ropes.

The victim cannot be declared dead officially until a stethoscope is placed over his heart.

Several witnesses were half fainting during the execution, and the escaping gas nauseated nearly all in the prison yard. The odor, musty, and sickening like that of peach blossoms, was easily detected.

The actual execution was delayed somewhat by the careful strapping of the Chinese to his chair. Straps touched his chest, waist and feet, and his hands were tied tightly to his sides.

The official witnesses were Dr. A. H. Kufaker, Dr. E. E. Hamer, Major Turner, Dr. J. R. Hardy, C. L. Jones and the International News Service correspondent.

The body will remain in the death chamber until 10:15, when an attempt will be made by Major Turner to resuscitate the man. Warden Dickerson has consented to the attempt.

By a last minute change in plans Gee Jon was placed facing the witnesses instead of with his back to them.

Nevada State Prison, Carson City, Nev., Feb. 8.—A ghastly stage was set here today to carry out history's first lethal gas execution. Four heavily armed guards are keeping guard on a separate stone structure in the center of the solid walled prison yard where Gee Jon, convicted Chinese tong murderer, will die today.

The day dawned happily for two men—Hughie Sing, Chinese accomplice of Gee Jon, whose youth and confession a week ago won commutation to life imprisonment, and Thomas Russell, Mexican, convicted of slaying his Indian sweetheart, Mamie Jonnie, whose life was saved by a dramatic eleventh hour appeal to the pardon board by Judge P. A. McCarran, at a special meeting last night. His sentence was commuted.

The death chamber was built in 1888. Originally it was the prison butcher shop. Its chop counters were removed and three cells heavily constructed. Strapped in a chair but not blindfolded, the condemned man was in one of the barred cells this morning for the whiff of the deadly gas scientists know to send him like a trapped rat into eternity.

White washed, the death chamber is eight by ten feet in dimensions. Facing the cells is a small tub with a tiny faucet on its end. The tub, running through a small hole in the stone wall, is attached to tubes containing hydrocyanic gas.

E. B. Walker, chemical expert, in charge of the gas operation, will operate from behind a stone partition, an electric pump which will throw a fine spray in the direction of its victim, bound and helpless about six feet in front.

MAJOR TURNER TO TRY TO REVIVE GEE JON

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Nevada State Prison, Carson City, Nev., Feb. 8.—Major D. A. Turner, U. S. A., reserve corps, Reno, Nev., plunged prison officials here into a panic today when he said he would attempt to resuscitate Gee Jon.

"I think I can revive him by the Schaefer method of artificial respiration. I have done it before. For years I have experimented with hydrocyanic gas."

In the evening at 8 o'clock the Adoption decree will be conferred upon the class of about 25 pale-faces. There will be vandy-vill supplied from the acts at the Kingston Opera House. The Great Chief of Records will be the speaker.

It is expected that between 400 and 500 Red Men from Ulster, Greene, Sullivan, Orange and Dutchess counties will be present. They will be accompanied by their wives who will dine with the Indians at Mechanics' Hall.

The Adoption decree will be put on by the combined degree teams from Minnewaska and Wawarsing Tribes of this city.

Charge Mrs. Hare With Shoplifting

Mrs. Philip Hare, 30 years old, of Port Ewen, was arrested this noon by Special Officer Ira Britt on a charge of shoplifting at Eighmey's store on lower Broadway.

The police claim that when she was arrested she had her shopping bag filled with articles she had helped herself to, and which were valued at about $45.

Later Mrs. Hare was arraigned before Judge Harry E. Schrick in police court and entered a plea of not guilty. She asked that the hearing be adjourned to Monday morning, and her request was granted.

Judge Schrick fixed the amount of bail at $500 bond or $300 cash. Since the closing out sale at the Eighmey store this week it has been found necessary to have special policemen on duty there to prevent shoplifting.

Both were scheduled to die today with Gee Jon.

Two cats were used to test the death room. They died 15 seconds after the gas jet was turned. Warden Dickerson said. Following the disclosures that gas had leaked out into the prison yard during the test, small cracks around the door in the execution house were repacked with oakum today.

A pound and a half of gas will be used. This amount is declared to be enough to fill a room three times as large as the death vault.

Prison authorities admitted they were concerned over the leak. Warden Dickerson would not deny there was grave danger to all who witness the death as well as to the 135 prisoners behind barred windows in cells overlooking the death scene.

A damp snow which threatened rain was falling. The rain, it was said, might carry back the gas fumes into the prison yard.

A swift current of air would also carry a menace of death. Dickerson admitted by sweeping the death-giving gas back into the prison yard. A tiny inhalation is sufficient to cause death, according to the warden.

In the face of these possibilities, greatest precautions were to be taken and remedies were on hand to treat any who might be affected by stray currents from the death chamber.

Horror and fear filled the empty corridors of the prison this morning. Souls are in pain and the prisoners and guards seem to shrink from casting their eyes at the death house in the prison yard.

"I hope there is no outbreak in the prison," said Captain of the Guards Joe Muller, as he arranged to lead the condemned man through the first sunshine he had seen in months to death in the stone shed.

"The men are excited but they are heavily guarded and those who make a false move will be shot in their tracks."

The death chamber was built in 1888. Originally it was the prison butcher shop. Its chop counters were removed and three cells heavily constructed. Strapped in a chair but not blindfolded, the condemned man was in one of the barred cells this morning for the whiff of the deadly gas scientists know to send him like a trapped rat into eternity.

KENNEDY IS AWARDED CONTRACT TO RAISE COOPER'S LAKE DAM

Utica Firm Proves Lowest Bidder for Job of Adding Six Feet to Height of Dam Increasing Storage Capacity 250,000,000 Gallons—Start in Spring.

The R. B. Kennedy Company, Inc., of Utica, N. Y., was awarded the contract to add six feet to the height of the Cooper's Lake dam by the board of water commissioners Thursday afternoon at a meeting held at the city hall to open bids. There were but two other bids received. One was from the W. E. Joyce Company, Inc., of this city, and the other from the Suburban Engineering Company of New York city. Each bid was accompanied by a certified check for a thousand dollars.

Raising the dam at Cooper's Lake will increase the storage capacity approximately 250,000,000 gallons. To do this work an engineer who had been engaged by the board estimated it would require 2,400 cubic yards of earth (bankwork); 410 cubic yards of concrete; 125 cubic yards of broken ashlar masonry; 150 cubic yards of rip-rap slope protection; and 700 lineal feet of iron dowels. It was estimated that the entire cost of the job would be approximately $20,000.

The Kennedy Company's bid amounts to $15,755, which, together with the engineer's expenses, will make the total cost of the job about the amount estimated.

Kennedy's Bid.

The Kennedy Company's bid in detail follows:

For stripping and grubbing—lump sum—$50.

For earth embankment, $1 per cubic yard.

For concrete, $14 per cubic yard.

For broken ashlar masonry, $50 per cubic yard.

For rip-rap slope protection, $1 per cubic yard.

For iron dowels, 40 cents per lineal foot.

For raising well house—lump sum—$175.

Joyce Company's Bid.

The bid of the Joyce Company follows:

For stripping and grubbing—lump sum—$1,500.

For earth embankment, $2.50 per cubic yard.

For concrete, $19.50 per cubic yard.

For broken ashlar masonry, $52 per cubic yard.

For rip-rap slope protection, $6.50 per cubic yard.

For iron dowels, $1.50 per lineal foot.

For raising well house—lump sum—$500.

Suburban Company's Bid.

The Suburban Company's bid follows:

For stripping and grubbing—lump sum—$250.

For earth embankment, $1.75 per cubic yard.

For concrete, $20 per cubic yard.

For broken ashlar masonry, $44 per cubic yard.

For rip-rap slope protection, $5 per cubic yard.

For iron dowels, $1 per lineal foot.

For raising well house—lump sum—$425.

Start work in Spring.

The certified checks of the two unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them today by the water board.

The work on the contract will be started in the spring as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

Other Matters.

In addition to awarding the contract for the raising of the dam the board audited a number of bills and transacted considerable routine business and then adjourned.

NO OPPOSITION TO MORE DELAWARE LIGHTS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 8.—There was no opposition to the application before the public service commission yesterday of the New York State Gas & Electric Corporation of Ithaca for authority to construct and operate an electric lighting and power system in Fleischmanns and the towns of Roxbury, Bovina, Stamford, Kortright, Hamden, Colebrook, Andes and Harpersfield in Delaware county, and Shandaken in Ulster county. Franchises have been granted by the village and town boards giving authority to operate, and approval of these was asked on the hearing yesterday.

Many of the communities involved are at present without electric lighting and power facilities.

PROTEST REGULATION OF INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Feb. 8.—Chemists today planned a vigorous protest to Washington over the government's announced intention of placing supervision of manufacture, sale and use of industrial alcohol in charge of the prohibition department.

D. H. Killefer, in a statement in the official journal of the American Chemical Society, declared the new law places legitimate industry in the same category with bootlegging.

Under the new law makers and users of industrial alcohol would operate on ninety day permits. At present perpetual permits are revokable only by court order.

Parade of Red Men Saturday.

Tribal Gathering of 400 or 500—Council Degree Work, Feast and Entertainment.

Dressed in Indian costume with all their war paint the members of the Hudson Valley Red Men's Council, which will meet in this city Saturday, will leave the wigwam, corner of Broadway and Thomas street at 6 o'clock, Saturday, and headed by their warriors and braves will trail down Broadway to the Strand, back up Broadway as far as St. James street and back to Mechanics' Hall on Henry street where a feast will be served. Accompanied on their march by the town-tom, in true Indian fashion, the braves and warriors will lead their captured pale-faces to the feast.

The members of Whitechapel Council, Daughters of Pheochonias, will have prepared at the camp on the return march good things to eat.

The opening session of the council will be held at the wigwam on Broadway and Thomas street at 2:30 o'clock when the council fire will be lighted with Joseph Miller presiding. The parade will start promptly at 6 o'clock after the business meeting is over.

In the evening at 8 o'clock the Adoption decree will be conferred upon the class of about 25 pale-faces. There will be vandy-vill supplied from the acts at the Kingston Opera House. The Great Chief of Records will be the speaker.

It is expected that between 400 and 500 Red Men from Ulster, Greene, Sullivan, Orange and Dutchess counties will be present. They will be accompanied by their wives who will dine with the Indians at Mechanics' Hall.

Law, Not Teachers, Requires That Parents

Furnish Birth Certificates, Says Michael

To parents whose children are entering the public schools for the first time:

My dear friends:

Our teachers and elementary school principals may seem to some of you to have been unreasonable in demanding birth certificates upon the first registration of your children at school. This demand is prompted by no whim or caprice of the local school authorities. It is done in compliance with the school law as amended by the laws of 1921, chapter 386, in effect September 1, 1921, which reads as follows:

"At the time a child of school age begins to attend upon instruction at a public school or elsewhere, the person in parental relation to such child shall submit to the school authorities or to the person having control or charge of the instruction of such child, as evidence of age, a duly attested transcript of the birth certificate filed according to law with a registrar of vital statistics or other officer charged with the duty of recording births; or a passport; or a duly attested transcript of a certificate of baptism showing the date of birth of such child."

It is the intention of the school authorities to cause parents as little annoyance in this matter as possible. The exact record of the date of birth on file in the schools is a very important matter for the child when he grows up. Almost daily, applications come before the superintendent for the school record of people who have long since left school for the activities of life. It is sometimes a great disappointment to these applicants if the records are incomplete, as was demonstrated during the World War when people subject to the draft were seeking corroborative evidence as to the date of birth.

I am asking all parents to give their

THE SNOW SHOVELS

The two snow shovels were resting. They had been doing a lot of hard work.

The Boys Who Used Them.

It is true that they had been helped in their work by two boys, but they had done their share, too. They had been strong and steady and they hadn't objected to shoveling and shoveling the snow.

There had been an extra fall of snow the night before and everything was covered with it. No one could walk along the streets until the snow was shoveled, for it had fallen in banks and great drifts. And now that paths were made the snow shovels were having a rest.

Then, too, the boys who had been using them had gone off to school. They had been left against the barn door.

"I think it is nice to be a snow shovel," said the first one. "I would hate to be a fan in the summer time, for example, and have to blow about in the hot air."

"It is so much nicer to go through the cool, soft, beautiful snow. I dearly love the snow."

"And I agree with you," said the second snow shovel. "I've often thought how dreadful it would be to be a flatiron and to be put on a stove."

"There was an old flatiron out in the barn once and it talked to me and told me how it used to sit on a stove until it was good and hot and then how it was pushed back and forth over damp clothes until it made them smooth and warm, too."

"That would be a job I wouldn't care for at all."

"But our work! Our work is play!"

"Yes," said the first snow shovel, "and it is so easy to work in good crisp cold weather. In the summer time it is different. I wouldn't blame anyone for being lazy in the summer time."

"If anyone came to me and said: 'So-and-so is very lazy,' I would at once ask, 'When was So-and-so lazy?'"

"If I was told that it was in the summer time I'd shake my head if I had a head. As I haven't I'd merely squeak a little and I would say: 'Friend, that isn't laziness. That is merely natural.'"

"Now we can work with a vim and with lots of energy because the weather makes us feel so fine. In the summer the air is of no consequence. That is, to a snow shovel, it isn't of any consequence."

"In the winter the air amounts to something. You can feel it. It plays about you and whispers to you and tells you secrets and it makes you glow with the tales it has to tell of the wind and of Old Man Winter and of all the Crisp Little Breezes."

"If one has a face the winter air makes it cool and soft and gives it color."

"If one is a snow shovel it makes one feel full of energy and happiness."

"I've heard, too, of people who've said they loved it when the first snow came to hear the snow shovels, perhaps late at night or early in the morning, working, working, working with the help of boys and men and girls, too."

"They've said the sound we make clearing the walks, squeaking with joy, was so pleasant to hear in the crisp, clear stillness."

"And, oh dear, it does rejoice me to think that we're liked, too. For it is a nice thing to be a snow shovel."

"Often I thank my lucky stars (I'm not sure if I have any, but if I have, I thank them), that I'm not so many other things. Just suppose you and I were steam boilers or kitchen stoves or frying pans or furnaces or teakettles or coffee pots or broilers or any such articles!"

"I've heard of people who were glad they were what they were. I've heard of those who were glad they weren't as others they knew—perhaps living in such grandeur they could never have any of the nice, simple, jolly times."

"But I'm particularly glad of what I am."

"The same with me," said the second snow shovel.

And then they squeaked this song as they rubbed the snow near them which had been so firm, packed down:

We're the snow shovels, happy and gay!
Work to us is just like play!
We love the winter and the bracing cold,
It keeps us young and we won't grow old.
Ahead of our time, oh, no, not we,
For we're of the winter time, healthy, you see.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

It is Nice to Be a Snow Shovel.

"You must either cook or stoop. Eat or be eaten, stand or drop. You must either change or govern. Must be sure or must be sure."

FOOD IN FIGS AND DATES

We are too prone to think of figs, dates and raisins as confections and luxuries—while they are and more; they are rich in food value.

These dried fruits may take the place of more expensive foods. Dates have a food value in calories of 125 to the pound; they are as well as figs and raisins rich in sugar of a kind which is more wholesome to take than the candy which is so popular.

Fig Salad.—Take two cups of dried figs, four cups of boiling water, one-fourth cup of sugar, one-fourth cup of vinegar, two and one-half tablespoons of gelatin and one-half cup of pineapples. Cut the dried figs into halves, add the boiling water and soak at least three hours. Cook in the same liquid until tender, add the sugar a few minutes before removing from the heat. Drain the liquid off the figs, measure, and if needed, add water to make one and one-quarter cups of liquid. Add the vinegar and bring to the boiling point. Add the gelatin which has been softened in one-fourth cup of cold water. Stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Arrange the halved figs and the chopped pineapples in a mold, pour the gelatin mixture over and set aside to become firm. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Favorite Fig Cookies.—Cream one-half cup of fat, add three-fourths of a cup of sugar; when well mixed add a beaten egg, one and three-fourths cups of rolled oats which have been parched and thoroughly crisp, then put through the meat grinder; add three-fourths of a cup of finely chopped figs. Mix and sift one and one-half cups of flour with one teaspoonful of salt, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of cinnamon, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of cloves, one-half teaspoonful of nutmeg; alternate the dry ingredients with one-third of a cupful of milk. Mix thoroughly and drop from a teaspoon on baking sheets. Bake in a moderate oven about twenty minutes.

Gray Roshanara Crepe
Is Shown for Spring

Worn at Southern resorts, and as a harbinger of spring in the North, this handsome lightweight trotteur suit in gray Roshanara crepe is being shown.

Timely Fashion Hints
of Interest to Women

Soutache and circ braids are being used with discretion on tailored costumes. Upon a smart tailleur of brown drappella these braids take the place of fur.

Lacquer red is back again as a favorite color, used only in touches. It is often combined with that peculiar tone of grayish sand newly named "epitaxy."

Among the draped hats shown in London which seem slowly to be ousting the universal cloche is one of satin or draped as to form in front a huge bow.

Four angles thrust themselves forward in the silhouette of a new tailleur shown in Paris. The angles are relieved by fur at the throat, waist, hips and ankles.

The newest ornament for the formal gown, whether meant for afternoon or evening, is a knot of feathers on one hip. The feathers seem to be of any kind that are soft and they should be in contrasting colors.

Silver lace in exquisite shades of yellow is among the favorite evening materials at present. It is particularly effective when decorated with shoulder straps and buckles of jet and crystal or brilliants.

Shoes, the most recent of them, are not very highly decorated. Really smart Paris women incline to footwear which is beautifully made and of beautiful materials, but unobtrusive in color and ornamentation.

The swankiest evening cloaks are now topped by high cylinder-shaped collars of fur. This collar, usually white on a dark cloak, comes so high around the head as to hide the ears from view.

Milady Should Have
Individual Perfume

Perfume, which has always been regarded as a sensitive gauge of taste, is having a merry vogue. Every woman nowadays must have her own selection something as characteristic as her stationery. The perfumery industry has grown into large proportion. Oriental, Persian and Chinese perfumes are popular. These and the newer French varieties are costly, though this does not seem to diminish their sale. It is quite a common thing nowadays to pay $25 for a small bottle of perfume that is to be used a drop at a time, and dealers supply their most indigent customers with varieties that are even more expensive.

Perfume containers are among the latest entertaining novelties. Beautiful ornamental bottles of many shapes are shown; rare glass, antiques and little animal forms of Venetian and Bohemian glass serve to hold the precious liquid. Birds, deer and all the animals of the barnyard are made into this glass bottles to ornament the dressing table. An especially dainty contrivance is a pair of dice made of thin blown glass, each filled with one of the new odors and fitted into a little box of kid that fastens with a metal clasp.

Clean Furs With Hot
Dry Cornmeal or Bran

Both light and dark furs can be cleaned best by the amateur with hot, dry cornmeal or bran, says an exchange. Stretch the piece to be cleaned on a flat board, fasten down the corners and edges with thumb tacks. Brush the fur with a stiff brush and rub the hot bran well into the hair. Brush again, allowing the cleaner to stay in contact with the fur according to the amount of soil.

Upin and shake or beat well to remove the cleaner. Old-established furriers claim that fine beach sand (perfectly clean, of course) applied in much the same way will produce good results. Always cut furs on the hide side with a sharp razor and piece with over-casting stitches, pulling the hair up over the seam with the needle.

Where Modesty Doesn't Fit. Modesty is one of the most admired of human traits in an individual, and yet it is a regrettable fact that in advertising modesty is seldom effective. A good advertising page must say: "Hey, there, just look at me!"—Fred Kelly in the Nation's Business.

KINGSTON, N. Y., FEB. 8, 1924.

Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, says restoration of the oil properties is more important than punishment of the guilty manipulators. Another observer gives punishment the first place. Presumably it is too much to expect both.

There is a "K. K. K." in the Philippines also, but the three "K's" stand for "Kabalanses Kagalangang Katipunan," or "the supremely perfected and virtuous union for freedom." Naturally such an organization is giving Governor General Wood a good deal of trouble.

The English-speaking world may ignore the change of Petrograd to "Leningrad" without serious complications. Already we disregard the exact forms of many foreign names of cities, in the case of Italy, for example, calling Firenze "Florence," Venezia "Venice," Livorno "Leghorn," etc., etc.

Women's clothing recently unearthed in Egypt said to be 2,642 years old is also said to be identical in style with that worn by fashionable Egyptians today. If Egyptian women are much like European and American, it may be safely concluded that meanwhile the styles changed about 1,321 times.

According to a compilation by the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis, since August, 1920, to date more than 450 banks have closed in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana, not including those which closed and later reopened. Many of these were small institutions, but the record shows that the farmers and merchants of that section have been hard hit during the past three years. This helps to explain the political upheavals in the Northwest.

When Magnus Johnson came with his cow to Washington and pulled off his milking and wood-chopping contests—in which he went down to defeat—he obviously posed not only as a "dirt farmer" but as a democrat of democrats. But when he rushed into the press gallery at Washington to make physical war on a correspondent who had displeased him, he raised a question as to the real quality of his boasted democracy, adding to the suspicion that under his skin a radical is, after all, not a democrat but an autocrat.

In the course of about thirty years Mr. Munsey has bought up ten newspapers in New York city alone and has kept only three of them alive, being said to take "undisguised pride in his record as executioner." Mr. Curtis did not figure in the role of executioner when recently he bought the New York Evening Post, but some observers are inclined to the opinion that death would have been more merciful, for the historic old Manhattan journal seems to have become merely an evening edition of the Philadelphia Morning Ledger, carrying the same foreign correspondence and some of the same editorials. Sic transit gloria mundi.

WHAT LINCOLN SUFFERED.

It is popularly supposed that the traditional view of the character and services of President Lincoln was almost universally held in the North during his life time, that he was misunderstood and denounced only by his political opponents. How far this is from the real truth, how his days were clouded with sorrow, how he was martyred even in the house of his friends, is clearly indicated in the subjoining extract from his "Life" written by Nicolay and Hay, which shows that even after Lincoln's violent death there were Republican Senators and Congressmen—the "bitter-enders" of that day—who openly expressed gratification at the removal of one who had blocked their plans for the drastic punishment of the States and people of the late Southern Confederacy. The extract reads as follows:

There was one exception to the general grief (over Lincoln's death) too remarkable to be passed over in silence. Among the extreme radicals in Congress Mr. Lincoln's determined enmity and liberality toward the Southern people had made an impression so unfavorable that, though they were naturally shocked at his murder, they did not among themselves conceal their gratification that he was no longer in their way. In a political caucus, held a few hours after the President's death, they resolved on an entire change of Cabinet and a "line of policy less conciliatory than that of Mr. Lincoln."—the feeling was nearly universal—"we are using the language of one of their most profound representatives." "That the accession of Johnson to the Presidency would prove a Godsend to the country." The next day the Committee on the Conduct of the War called on the new President and Senator Wade bluntly expressed to him the feeling of his associates: "Johnson, we have faith in you. By the gods, there will be no trouble now in running the Government."

HEART FAILURE.

Did you ever notice that the expression "he died of heart failure" is not as common as it was a few years ago.

In fact a physician is not supposed to use the expression on a death certificate, because in a sense everybody dies because of the failure of the heart to work any more.

And yet this very failure of the heart, this piece of muscle we call the heart, accounts directly for many deaths.

Not because it has valves that are not closing properly, or that remain partly open when they should be closed, but just because the muscle itself is not strong. Not heart disease at all as it is popularly known.

Take the muscle anywhere in your body, the upper arm for instance, because that is the muscle that as a boy you liked to exhibit to give other boys an idea of your physical strength. This arm muscle is either getting weaker, stronger, or remaining the same, according to the amount of exercise you take. If you have been doing the same amount of exercise for some time it will remain about the same. This exercise may be just raising your foot to your mouth three times a day, hanging on to the wheel of a motor car, to a strap in the street car, or actually working at manual labor.

If you increase this work or decrease it, that arm muscle will increase or decrease in strength.

Did you ever stop to think that your heart muscle acts just the same way?

You say "that's impossible, because my heart is not under the control of my will, and keeps on beating whether I work or not."

That's true, but if you were to "work" your body absolutely still for weeks and months the heart muscle would become flabby and soft just exactly like your arm muscle.

If after lying for weeks or months you were to get directly out of bed, and attempt to walk or exercise, your heart would not be able to pump the blood properly, and you would faint away, in fact might collapse entirely.

What is my point? That you are only just as strong as your heart, and your chances of life rest to a great extent on the actual muscular power of your heart to keep pumping the blood for you.

How can you keep it strong? No royal road. Just plenty of walking, slow running, in fact any simple regular exercise will do it.

And remember—nothing else on earth will do it.

HIGHLAND

Highland, Feb. 7.—Bright and clear among the galaxy of club meetings stands out the Auxiliary meeting of February 1, at Mrs. J. R. Seaman's home on Vineyard avenue, when a very large membership presented themselves for business and social. Everyone was given a hearty welcome by the hostesses of the afternoon, Mrs. Seaman, Mrs. Mellis, Mrs. Harrington and Miss Marjorie Mellis.

At the opening of the session the president extended a most cordial greeting to all. The Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Coons conducted devotional exercises. Then came routine business. The club will give a Colonial supper February 22, and beside this there will be on sale domestic articles, home made candy, sherbet and a cherry tree with gifts on. Also music by Epworth orchestra in the lecture room of the M. E. Church. Supper served in dining room down stairs. All plans were perfected at club meeting. Chairman and assistants have just worked well. Everyone requested to donate some article for domestic table. The reports of all committees at meeting were satisfactory. Sick and shut-ins have all been remembered. One new member was voted in, Mrs. Hoyt-trad. There was a great deal of business transacted. Reports of standing and special committees were most encouraging. Discussions were entered into and practical suggestions made toward the accomplishment of various subjects. The club is gaining in numbers and intense interest. At the close of business the hostesses served delicious brick ice cream, home made cake and fancy wafers and coffee. Conversation was indulged in during eating and as the keynotes of the meetings are struck in sociability, and as that is a chord of harmony, its effect is always shown in the enthusiasm of the meetings. Late afternoon expressed to the hospitable ladies who entertained their pleasure of the delightful session at the Seaman home.

Captain R. H. Decker spent some time this week in Pleasant Valley visiting his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Decker.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van Demark moved in their recently purchased house on Fair street last week.

A. D. Lent was in Poughkeepsie Wednesday on business.

Daughters of America of this place held their regular meeting on Wednesday evening. The new councilor appointed her captain and team, also pianist. They had a good number out and much business thought over. At the close there was a card party. The room was filled with tables and players and progressive games were played. Prizes were given. A jolly time would not half express it for playing went on vigorously for hours. Then the bell sounded and refreshments was the order. Committee Chairman Emma Davis, with an able corps of assistants, served peach and berry sherbet, sandwiches, home made cake and coffee, which everyone declared was delicious. A substantial sum was realized for the treasury from the efforts put forth by the members of the Council No. 65. The growth of the order throughout the state shows conclusively that as its merits become better known it appeals more strongly to people and the officers and members are grateful for people assisting the organization that looks out for the welfare of its people.

Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand Haviland entertained the official board of the M. E. Church Monday evening at their home. There was a fine representation of the members and routine business gone through and many interesting subjects discussed. Mrs. Haviland, during social hour, served all with most delicious homemade ice cream, cake and coffee. The men were very grateful to the hostess and were delighted with the evening at the Haviland home.

Howard Wilcox has been ill. At present he is around again. W. E. Wilcox is not feeling very good. All hope to hear of his rapid improvement.

Louis Palmer, who has been ill for over a week with grip, is improving slowly which is good news to relatives and friends. He is missed at his place of business.

A. W. Lent has returned from Philadelphia where he has been a short time on business.

Mrs. Emma Davis was a shopper in Poughkeepsie Monday.

Mrs. George Cornell has returned home after spending some time in New York city.

F. L. Metcalf is enjoying the balmy weather of the south and is delighted to escape these cold and stormy days at this place.

L. A. Martin of North Road, has sold his place to a man named Dowd from Milton.

Mrs. Charles Whittaker is ill at her home. Her friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Queen Esther people met at the home of Mrs. George Hildebrandt Wednesday evening and spent a pleasant and profitable session. Business and social combined with refreshments.

Theron DuBois of Maple avenue is confined to his home by illness. Friends are hoping for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. F. Welker of New York city is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Feeler for a few days.

Epworth League of the M. E. Church will hold a social in the church parlors Friday.

Mrs. J. W. Feeler was hostess to the U. D. Society last Saturday.

Mrs. G. W. Pratt entertained the bridge club of this place Friday at the home of Mrs. Egbert Van Wagner. All had a busy time.

GLASCO

Glaseo, Feb. 7.—Herbert Burhans has returned from a visit in Brooklyn. Miss Lita Helms is ill.

Miss Estella Burhans of Brooklyn is visiting relatives here.

Miss Ethel Harrington of Burnside, Conn., is the guest of Mrs. Althea B. Teitler.

George Brink and family have moved in the new home he recently built on the Saugerties road.

Mrs. John Vorhauer and daughter, Grace, spent the week end with her parents in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Helen F. Cole of Poughkeepsie spent Wednesday here.

The mid-week prayer meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Cassell Friday evening.

The AMERICAN LEGION

(For This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

PLACE BLAME FOR CRIME IN NATION

In order to support the claims of the American Legion that a certain element of the alien population is largely responsible for crime in the nation, a definite survey of persons and courts has been undertaken by Garland W. Powell, director of the National Americanism commission of the Legion.

The Legion favors total exclusion of all immigrants for a period of five years, in order to assimilate those aliens now within the boundaries of America, and will present the determination as regards the crime by aliens, in order to substantiate the allegations that such immigration is deleterious to national ideals.

Similar information has never been available, but Mr. Powell believes to present it in such a way as to completely bear out claims of the Legion. The immigration question will be presented to national legislators for consideration at this term of congress.

In a letter sent to the chairman of the Americanism commissions in each of the Legion departments, definite information is sought. One of the questionnaires prepared by the Americanism commission deals with courts, district attorneys and the activities of their offices. In this, Mr. Powell requests exact information as to cases pending against aliens for violation of narcotic and prohibition laws, for murder, for robbery, and other crimes, as compared with American citizens on the same charge.

Another portion of the questionnaire deals entirely with prison and penal institutions. This requests information as to how many aliens are serving sentences of six months or more for murder, robbery, violation of prohibition and narcotic laws, and other crimes as compared with the Americans incarcerated for the same crimes. Importance of such a census of prisons and courts has been impressed on the Americanism commission of each department, and the information received is expected by Mr. Powell to be of weight in consideration of immigration restriction, in line with policies of the veterans' organization.

Woman Leads Post to High Standing

Under guidance of a woman, a post of the American Legion in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, has grown to be one of the most effective and powerful units of the organization in the South. Miss Alice Gray, former post commander, now representing the state as member of the national executive committee, was this leader, and Legion officials are agreed that her efforts are greatly responsible for success of this post.

The first care of the Clyde Bolling post, which Miss Gray headed, was relief of the disabled, and later that same service to the community. Many forward looking steps were outlined and put into effect by the post during the term which Miss Gray headed the post, and its achievements, particularly in instilling into the citizenship a deeper sentiment for patriotism, have won it a place of respect from the entire community. Display of the flag was one of the leader's hobbies, and perhaps no city in the South has more general observance of patriotic customs than Winston-Salem.

To Have Memorial Park

An old, unused cemetery near Van Wert, O., will soon be converted into a memorial park for the veterans of all wars, through action taken by a local post of the American Legion. The Legion men secured permission of the county commissioners to use the burial ground for this purpose, and will clean it up and install uniform headstones for those markers now fallen. One of the bodies now interred there is to be removed. A memorial building is planned by the Legion men, which is expected to house records and relics of the nation's wars.

To Teach Aliens

Recreation classes to teach aliens the value of play as well as study have been established by the Monroe County, N. Y., council of the American Legion as a part of the Americanism work of the veterans' organization. In these classes adult aliens seeking naturalization will learn the value of physical development, fair play, aggressiveness and co-operation as expressed in the games taught. Gymnastics in local schools have been donated and volunteer physical workers are serving as instructors without recompense.

A Good Idea Gone Wrong

Mr. Smith—What's Jimmy so blue about this evening?
Mrs. Smith—He brought his teacher bunch of beautiful leaves from the tree.
"What's the matter? Didn't she appreciate them?"
"She did; that's why he's so disappointed. The little dear thought they were poison ivy."—American Legion Weekly.

Elemental spirits were beings who, according to popular belief in the Middle Ages, presided over the four elements, living in and ruling them. The elemental spirits of fire were called salamanders, those of water, mermaids; those of air, sylphs, and those of earth, gnomes.

DUFFY TO AID OF EX-SERVICE MEN

It was through the efforts of Francis Ryan Duffy, national vice-commander of the American Legion, that the veterans' organization began to learn much of the condition of mental abnormality of many ex-service men in penal institutions of the nation, which had led to preparations for an extensive survey of such prisoners, with a view to proper care and treatment of such unfortunates.

The attention of Gov. John J. Blaine of Wisconsin was called to the fact that many ex-service men were imprisoned in the penitentiaries of his state, when they should rightfully be receiving treatment in mental institutions, not incarcerated for crimes their condition of mind had led them to commit.

Duffy was department commander of the American Legion when the state executive began this survey, which determined that 60 per cent of the ex-service men held as prisoners were mentally abnormal and that 20 per cent of these were sufferers from disabilities traceable to war service. The Legion man interested himself in the project, and through the aid of Governor Blaine and other state officials carried on a strong fight for the direction of these men to proper institutions, which course for the most part has been highly successful. This survey caused the adoption of a resolution by the national executive committee of the Legion directing its officials to begin a survey of all federal prisons.

Duffy was born in Fond du Lac, Wis., June 23, 1888, and that city is still his home. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and is a practicing attorney at law in his home city, serving as commissioner of the Circuit court.

He was commissioned in the Officers' Reserve corps in February 1917, and was assigned to the motor transport section. He was the first professional or business man to leave Fond du Lac for service at the outbreak of war. While in service he was assistant motor transportation officer in base section 1, A. E. F., and was promoted to the rank of major in October, 1918. At one time he was on special duty in the advance section between Chateau-Thierry and Fismes, in connection with the motor transport corps. He left the service in May, 1919.

The vice-commander of the Legion served as a member of the state executive committee in 1921 and 1922. On August 26, 1922, he was elected department commander to succeed Edward J. Barrett who was named national vice-commander in 1922. The post of department commander in Wisconsin carried with it membership in the national executive committee, and it was there that Mr. Duffy's work for the men in prison was first heard. Following in Barrett's footsteps, the Fond du Lac man passed through the post of department commander, to be elected to the national office at San Francisco.

Hope to Aid Indians

The Indian ex-service men are proving difficult to handle, according to recent reports furnished American Legion officials in South Dakota and other western states, by investigators of the veterans' bureau. Many of these men were wounded, but when they return to the reservations nothing is ever heard of claims for hospitalization, compensation, or treatment. Recently Legion officials and representatives of the veterans' bureau inspected reservations in the West and found that a majority of the Indians who served in the World war are compensable, but many are not now receiving government aid. One report indicates that out of one hundred and fifty examined, practically one-third were afflicted with trachoma, a contagious disease of the eye. Legion officials in such states expect to extend their relief work to aid these men.

Purchase Burial Plots

Four plots of ground in one of the city cemeteries have been purchased by Argonne post No. 20 of the American Legion, to be used as a burying ground for Legionnaires without family or whose families are not in a position to purchase a plot. The post also decided to procure from the government headstones which are furnished free of cost to former service men.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and run this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by mousing the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

Governor Calls Dry Conference

City and Village Executives, Sheriffs, District Attorneys and Trooper Officers Invited to Meet at Albany February 20.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, Feb. 8.—Governor Smith has called a conference to be held in the Assembly Chamber, Capitol, Albany, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, February 20, for the purpose of having consideration given to the subject of prohibition enforcement, his action being based upon the request of Palmer Canfield, federal prohibition director.

The governor has sent the following letter and the program which was adopted at the conference of governors with President Coolidge to the mayors of the cities of the state, presidents of the villages, sheriffs of the counties outside of Greater New York, district attorneys of the counties, line officers of the state constabulary, United States district attorneys:

State of New York, Executive Chamber, Albany, February 6, 1924.
Dear Sir:
On October 20th, 1923, at the conference of state governors with President Coolidge, upon the subject of prohibition enforcement, a program of action was adopted, a copy of which I am herewith sending to you.

At the request of Palmer Canfield, federal prohibition director for this district, and for the purpose of considering and discussing such program, I have called a conference of the mayors of the cities of the state, the village presidents, the sheriffs of counties outside of Greater New York, the district attorneys of counties, line officers of the state constabulary and the United States district attorneys.

The conference will be held in the assembly chamber, state capitol, Albany, N. Y., at 8 p. m., on Wednesday, the twentieth day of February, 1924. The federal prohibition director and his aides will be present and will take part in the discussion.

You are cordially invited to be present, and in order that proper arrangements may be made, will you kindly write to me at the state capitol, whether or not I may count on your attendance?

Very truly yours,
(Signed) ALFRED E. SMITH.

Following is the program of action outlined by the governors' conference:

1. Coordination of all federal, state, county and municipal forces.
2. Call upon the press to support prohibition law enforcement, stress law observance, and treat the enforcement program commensurate with the gravity of lawlessness.
3. Call conventions of municipal, county, and state enforcement officials at a convenient date, to discuss and adopt a program for the state, the federal department pleading every possible support to these conventions.
4. Call upon the prosecuting attorneys in the various districts of the state to confer on this problem, pleading support with every facility to aid in such discussions.
5. Adopt whatever means are practicable to cause lawless citizens and aliens to respect the majesty and sanctity of the law, and to respect the various agencies enforcing it.
6. Cooperation by national authorities in all these activities.

Auto's Relation to Income Tax

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue Cyrus Durey of the 14 District of New York:

Deductions allowed taxpayers in connection with the maintenance and operation of automobiles are the subject of frequent inquiries from taxpayers in filing an income tax return. The following is for the guidance of owners and prospective owners.

Such cost—for garage bills, gasoline, repairs, etc.—may be deducted as a business expense when an automobile is used wholly for business purposes, or in trade, profession or farming. When used partly for such purposes and partly for pleasure or convenience of the taxpayer and his family, the cost may be prorated and that part attributable to business or the other purposes mentioned deducted as a business expense.

The same rule applies with regard to the deduction for depreciation, which is allowed when an automobile is used wholly in business, trade, profession or farming, and must be apportioned accordingly when used partly for such purposes and partly for pleasure. If an automobile is used almost exclusively for pleasure, a deduction for depreciation is not allowed.

The purchase price of an automobile, even when used wholly in business, cannot be deducted from gross income. It is a capital expenditure, deduction of which is expressly disallowed by the revenue act. The 5 per cent tax which attaches to the sale of an automobile cannot be deducted by the purchaser because it is a tax levied on the sale by the manufacturer, and must be returned and paid by him. The manufacturer may reimburse himself in the amount of the tax by agreement with the purchaser, in manner prescribed by treasury regulations. So far as the purchaser is concerned, the tax is a part of the cost to him of the automobile. The manufacturer may not deduct the tax in his return, unless the amount is included in his gross income.

An automobile license fee is regarded as a tax, and may be deducted whether the automobile is used for business or pleasure or convenience.

In the event of a collision between a truck and an automobile used for pleasure or convenience, the owner of the truck may claim a deduction for damages, provided the truck was being used for business at the time of the collision. No deduction is allowed the owner of the automobile, because it was not being used for business purposes. Amounts expended by owners of automobiles used for pleasure or convenience in repairing damages thereto caused by negligent operation do not constitute deductible losses.

Taxpayers are advised not to delay in the filing of their returns. To do so results in confusion and congestion during the closing days of the filing period which ends at midnight of March 15.

A THREE QUARTER MODEL THAT ACHIEVES DISTINCTION

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

In addition to the distinction of design that marks the coats and wraps for spring, including imports and import derivations, a movement to depart from the altogether straight silhouette is demonstrated repeatedly. In making this deduction, the consideration of flares or similar substitutes is not implied, but rather the presence of incidentals in composition that tend to break the straightness of the straightline silhouette.

One of the chief methods of introducing this interruption of the straight contour is by means of the capelet in its various ramifications and again, the division of the upper and lower sections of the coat in suit outline simulation.

The capelet is treated as a slightly flared section appended to the back or in the form of fully flared inverted capes, used in lieu of sleeves. One model, developed in crepe and answering the needs of a wrap for present wear in the South or for the spring uses the Miller Soeurs draped scarf turned into looped or sling sleeves.

In calling attention to these features of the coat and wrap mode, the altogether straight coat is not to be considered as one that is not represented for many models are planned along the straight lines that remain the basis of so many of the favored coat ideas. A number of the coats that apparently are of simple, unbroken outline reveal an intricacy of cut that may draw away from the elementary simplicity of the straight silhouette. A coat by Miller Soeurs, and another by Renee, reveal models composed of several sections joined in the decoratively tailored slot seams. In the Renee model, the use of a raglan shoulder seam in addition to a regulation inset armhole, is defined by slot seams.

In the straight coats, however, whether of simple or more intricate cut, the tapered silhouette prevails featuring the loosely fitted upper section in contradistinction to the narrow, wrapped lower section. (Copyright, 1924, Fairchild.)

Why do you eat Bran?

TO FIGHT CONSTIPATION—the most dangerous condition your system can become chained to—to get free from biliary illness, dull headaches, nausea—etc., etc.!!!

Rid yourself of this dangerous condition—or start "slipping" and become a prey to any one of the most dreaded human ailments which have their beginning with constipation and toxic poisoning!

Fight constipation as you would fight fire! Fight it with bran—Kellogg's Bran—BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN! Don't temporize! Don't waste time and health by going half-way! You need ALL BRAN; you need the bulk, the "roughage" of ALL BRAN, because it sweeps, cleanses and purifies!

REALIZE THIS—foods with a part bran content can only relieve constipation in proportion to the amount of bran they contain! If they are 25 or 50 per cent bran—you may get 25 or 50 per cent relief!

REMEMBER THIS—Kellogg's Bran is ALL BRAN and is guaranteed to give you positive and permanent relief if you will eat two table-spoonfuls daily, or as much with each meal in chronic cases!

Don't delay; don't fuss with half-way measures! You have too much at stake! All grocers sell—

Block Appoints Judge Jenkins

Mayor Morris Block Thursday evening filed the appointment of former County Judge James Jenkins as corporation counsel to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William D. Brinnier. Sr. Judge Jenkins has long been active in political life and is one of the best known lawyers in Ulster county. Judge Jenkins' appointment was unanimously confirmed by the common council.

METTACAHONTS.

Mettacahonts, Feb. 7.—There will be an entertainment held on Friday evening, February 15th at the Mettacahonts hall. Proceeds for the Ladies' of the Reformed Church. Refreshments will be served after the entertainment.

Meetings held at the church and Mettacahonts hall conducted by the Rev. L. M. Braun were very interesting and well attended the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Osterhout and daughter, Olive, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Osterhout and son, James, and M. Baker and Miss Edna Baker spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Enderly at Whitfield. A pleasant time was had by all. Mrs. J. Miller has been spending a few days with her brother, Benjamin Rider, who had the misfortune to break his leg. Dr. Fuller of Newburgh called on friends in this place on Saturday.

Test Yourself for Imaginative Memory

Thousands upon thousands of things have become so familiar to you that they are commonplace. Houses and trees, people and animals, sky and grass, words and pictures, and hundreds of other objects you know well. If your mind has served you well you are able to recall these familiar objects when only a clue is given.

Try this test and see if you can complete all the words in three minutes or less.

Mt. Marion, Feb. 7.—The theological student, William H. Vander Borgh, of New Brunswick Seminary, is expected to occupy these pulpits on February 10th as a candidate at Mt. Marion and High Woods.

Daylight and Darkness.

The part of the earth's surface from which the sun is entirely invisible at any time comprises 4227 of the total area. In obtaining this result it is assumed that the sun's semidiameter is 16 minutes and the horizontal refraction 34 minutes. So daylight covers the greater portion of the earth's surface.

You Poor Kid, Why Are You So Skinny?

Don't your mother know that Cod Liver Oil will put pounds of good healthy flesh on your bones in just a few weeks?

Tell her every druggist has it in sugar-coated tablet form now so that you won't have to take the nasty, fishy-tasting oil that is apt to upset the stomach.

Tell her that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets are chock-full of vitamins and are the greatest flesh producers and health builders she can find.

One sickly, thin kid, aged 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months. She must ask any good druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—as pleasant to take as candy.

IRRIGATION WHEELS USED IN CALIFORNIA

Water Device Used to Irrigate Lands.

In certain portions of northern California there are still sections that can be rendered very fertile only by the addition of water. There are as yet no government reclamation projects in operation in such districts on any great scale and land owners in many cases must rely upon their own resources to improve adequate irrigation facilities. Particularly is this true along one narrow valley near the Klamath river.

Along that stream have been placed a number of "irrigation wheels" that, in the aggregate, furnish an adequate supply of water for all kinds of crops—grains, grasses, orchards, vegetables, etc. Generally, these wheels are about 80 feet in diameter, and are strongly built of wood. Along the outer circumference are placed "float boards" or paddles. The wheel is immersed several yards in the water and the impulse of the current keeps the huge wheel slowly revolving most of the time. Placed at the interval of every few yards on the outside of the wheel are large boxlike metal buckets. These are filled as they dip into the water, are hoisted by the revolving wheel to the top and the contents poured into troughs on each side. These timber water flumes lead into ditches dug along the steep banks of the stream. Many of these ditch flumes are miles in length.

As these wheels run perpetually, great stores of water are thus collected and distributed among the thirsty crops of the ranchers for leagues on both sides of the narrow winding valley.

The only expense of the rancher is the construction of these wheels and the digging of the irrigation ditches. The system furnishes its own power as well as the life-sustaining element at the same time.

According to Hoyle

As Hiram Jones came into town he saw a sign in a store advertising a shoe sale. Shoes were hung all around the window in pairs, and in the center, on a small table, were laid three silver dollars, with the sign: "Get your shoes now. Three of a kind takes them."

Hiram needed a pair of shoes; so he entered the store, and said to the clerk: "I see you're selling shoes according to poker rules."

"Yes."

"Well, give me two pair."

"What size?"

"Number nine."

When the clerk returned with the shoes Hiram passed over three silver dollars and started to grab the shoes, but the clerk stopped him.

"Two pair of shoes at three dollars is six dollars."

"Didn't you say you sold shoes on poker rules?"

"Yes."

"Well, don't three of a kind take two pairs?"

"Sure," replied the clerk, "but it won't take four nines."—Judge.

Flea-Bitten America

Not being enough of an entomologist to know the designation for a large body of fleas, whether flock, cover, herd, band, or what not, I cannot set down precisely the term for these. In the aggregate, but it is descriptive enough to say that this country of ours, the United States of America, is at present infested with more critical, censorious, propagandist, revolutionary, reformatory, professional, parliamentary, cult, quack, political, economic, salvationist, empiricist, intelligentist, visionary, literary, artistic, financial and theological fleas than have ever infested any other country since the dawn of time. That is a considered statement, and made with full knowledge that from the beginning of organized society until now each phase has had its pest of similar fleas—Samuel G. Blythe, in McNaught's Monthly.

The Way It Felt

Little Johnny, aged six, had been to church, and had displayed more than usual interest in the sermon, in which the origin of Eve had been dwelt on at some length.

On his return from service, there being guests at dinner, he had also displayed a good deal of interest in the eatables, especially the pie and cakes.

Some time afterwards, being missed, he was found sitting quietly in a corner with his hands pressed tightly over his ribs, and an expression of awful anxiety on his face.

"Why, what on earth is the matter?" asked his mother in alarm.

"Mamma, I'm afraid I'm going to have a wife," little Johnny replied.—Brisbane Mail.

The Likeness

Wife (waxing philosophical)—Just to think, John! First utter drabness, then the working of the sap and finally the gorgeous tree—splendid in its multitude of gold and crimson gowns! How like our lives!

Fed-up Husband—How like, indeed, my dear! You the gorgeous tree and me the sap!

Elephant Tusks Smaller

A single tusk of an East African bull elephant has been known to weigh 285 pounds, but the average tusk of the old wild bull elephants of today is said to be not more than 50 pounds.

Zangwill Finds Some Good in America.

Israel Zangwill, noted British author, whose strictures on America and everything American aroused considerable comment when he first came to the United States, has called from New York for Europe. During his sojourn here he softened somewhat, for he found two or three things in America he could praise ever so faintly.

LITERATURE, RELIGION AND RECREATION OF YOUNG JUDEA

An important meeting of the Young Judea Club was held Sunday afternoon. A very interesting program was presented as follows:

A topic of Current Interest . . . . . Martin Spiegel
Poetry Selection . . . . . Ethel Marcus, Jr.
Legend . . . . . Sam Marcus
Folk Lore . . . . . Entire Club

This was followed by an exceedingly enjoyable social hour. A new plan for literary and intellectual pursuits was formulated at the club meeting. Hereafter every Saturday afternoon, at the Hebrew School Hall, all those members who are interested will gather to devote their time to varied discussions of a beneficial calibre. This work will be conducted by the club leader, Noah Rosenthal.

Synagogue services will be conducted this evening at 4:45 sharp. The Young Judea first public entertainment will take place in the near future, it will be fully emphasized later on.

The regular dance will be held Saturday evening commencing at 7:30. Although the dance last week was well conducted, more patronage is necessary to help make these dances successful.

As is the case throughout the state, the local chapter of the Young Judea is conducting its drive for subscriptions for the club magazine. The magazine is much improved and exceedingly interesting. The campaign is in full swing and the work is earnestly conducted by the following committee: Chairman, Meyer Kaplowitz, Miss Anna Dumey, Cople Barnovitz and Sarah Perlman.

Penalties for Profanity.
In several states profanity is variously declared punishable by the statutes. In this connection it is interesting to note an English law which has a sliding scale of penalties for this offense. For each profane oath or curse a laborer, soldier, or sailor may be fined one shilling; other persons under the rank of gentleman, two shillings; a gentleman or any one above that rank, five shillings.

Willie Willis.
Some drug store loafer offered to buy little Willie Willis a cigar the other afternoon, if he would smoke it. After Willie went to bed he told his mother he never again intended to say "Gee-whillikins" or "Golly Moses."

CITIES SPEND MORE THAN TAXES YIELD

Municipalities Increase Indebtedness Per Capita.

Washington.—The cities of the country generally—there are exceptions—are not living within their incomes, census bureau statistics announced last night.

A compilation of revenues and expenditures in the fiscal year 1922 for the 261 cities having a population of 10,000 or more, shows a total indebtedness incurred that year amounting to $5.56 for each resident. The cost of government per capita, including expenditures for permanent improvements amounted to $57.35 for the year, against revenues of $51.51, the total figures being $2,222,506,519 and $2,907,008,790, respectively.

The total net indebtedness at the close of the year was $3,618,007,272, or $93.42 per capita.

$58.07 Per Capita Cost.

The total cost of government in 1922 was highest in the cities having a population of 100,000 or over, with a per capita cost of $96.88. The next highest per capita, $64.20, is shown for cities with a population of 300,000 to 500,000. The per capita cost of cities from 100,000 to 300,000 amounted to $48.71, of cities from 50,000 to 100,000, $44.94 and in the small cities, having a population of 30,000 to 50,000, $44.37. Comparable statistics for 1921 of the principal cities show the per capita cost has increased from $34.88 in 1918 to $58.07 in 1922.

An analysis of the costs of the city governments shows the per capita cost for maintenance and operation of general departments was the principal item and amounted to $33.15. The per capita cost of permanent improvements was $15.05.

New York, the country's largest city, came through the year with a surplus of revenues of $3.28 per capita over expenditures, but the per capita net indebtedness amounted to $182.72. Chicago's revenues lacked $3.30 per capita of meeting her expenditures, but her net indebtedness amounted to only $46.36 per capita. Philadelphia, third largest city, ended the year with a per capita deficit of $9.95 and a per capita net indebtedness of $107.38.

Largest Per Capita Surplus

Among cities with a population of 100,000 or more, Seattle had the highest per capita revenue surplus, amounting to $93.85; Boston was second with $80.55; Los Angeles third with $79.81, and New York fourth with $69.94. The four cities with lowest per capita revenues were: Birmingham, $23.88; Reading, $26.13; San Antonio, $28.20 and Nashville, $28.01.

The highest per capita cost of government was at Detroit, where it amounted to $120.30. Seattle was second with $110.71, and Los Angeles third with $89.34. In all of these cities large outlays for permanent improvements were made in the year. The four cities with lowest per capita costs were: San Antonio, $25.65; Birmingham, $28.95; Scranton, $29.03, and Reading, $32.70.

Detroit showed the largest per capita deficit, with $54.77, Norfolk was next, with $49.02; Rochester third, with $19.10, and Youngstown fourth, with $18.05.

St. Louis had the largest per capita surplus, with $4.66. Spokane showed $4.61, Boston $4.21 and Cincinnati $3.43.

Find Stone Age Relics on African Forest Trail

London.—A collection of paleolithic and neolithic axe heads and other implements, found along forest tracks in West Africa, are among the trophies which have been brought home by F. W. H. Algoed, the explorer, who has just returned from a journey through the British Cameroons, a former German colony.

Hunters of the Stone Age, making their way into a forest or wood to hew down trees or branches, dropped axe heads here and there alongside primeval tracks, and on the same spots, untouched and unregarded through successive ages, they have lain for the Englishman at last to pick them up.

Apaches to Quit Tepees for New Modern Homes

Washington.—The 2,500 Indians living on the Fort Apache reservation in Arizona have been persuaded at last to abandon their tepees for the modern home. The interior department announced recently it had completed plans for the erection of frame houses for these Indians, described as the most backward of all tribes in progress toward civilization.

His Son Injured, Father Gets $15,000

New York.—A verdict for $15,000 was given to Thomas Clarke of 275 West One Hundred Forty-fourth street recently by the appellate division of the Supreme court, which upheld the lower court in granting this sum for injuries to the plaintiff's nine-year-old son, Thomas, Jr. The boy was struck by an Eighth avenue surface car on May 20, 1920, and both legs amputated.

At a previous trial the child won $12,500 for his injuries, making the total damages assessed against the railroad company $27,500.

Tricking Nature.
Never can any advantage be taken of nature by a trick. The spirit of the world, the great calm presence of the Creator, comes not forth to the sorceries of opium or of wine. The sublime vision comes to the pure and simple soul in a clean and chaste body.—Emerson.

Auto Show a Spacious Affair

Every Inch Of Room On Armory Floor To Be Used—Noise Makers Eliminated And Accessory Men Nearly Got Locations In Celler.

Twenty-five members of the Kingston Automobile Dealers Association sat down Thursday evening to a dinner at the Stuyvesant Hotel and after disposing of a "full" meal adjourned to the sample room in the basement of the hotel where they discussed a full armory. Space at the annual automobile show to be held on March 6, 7 and 8 is the pressing problem of the time among automobile dealers. Every dealer would like to show every model of the thirty-five makes which will be on exhibition at the show and only lack of space prevents this. At the last meeting the matter of space was discussed and has finally been smoothed out to the satisfaction of every member exhibiting cars.

The question of space for the necessary dealers came up at the meeting Thursday evening and after various suggestions and motions that matter was also taken care of. The accessory dealers who in previous years occupied the first booths at the main entrance will be moved back to the rear of the armory this year. Here the accessory dealers will be able to hold forth and talk to prospective customers without danger of them silently slipping out of the door during the lull when the accessory dealer stops to regain his breath.

At one time during the meeting the accessory dealers were in grave danger of being placed in the balcony when "Doc" Lown moved that the accessory dealers be allotted space there. This motion as well as his motion that they be kept in the cellar was unanimously voted down when even "Doc" voted against his motion.

The question of signs for the exhibitors was disposed of when Mr. Herzog came forward as usual and agreed to take care of that important matter. The signs used last year will be renovated and used.

Decorations also occupied the time of the members for a time but was quickly disposed of when Mr. Herzog announced that certain material which he had in view would be used. The plan for decorations will be worked out by the decorating committee.

The committee on programs reported progress. This year the program advertising will be taken up by members of the association and outside advertising will not be solicited.

The show this year will be a silent affair as decided at the last meeting of the association. No noise making apparatus will be allowed and the dealers and salesmen will be able to talk in confidential and convincing tones to the prospective purchaser. In connection with the no noise policy it was decided not to allow any loud speakers to be operated by the radio dealers who will exhibit.

President Peter A. Black, who presided at the meeting, being convinced that every member of every committee was hard at work and making progress then allowed the adjournment and the members dispersed.

Albino Tree.

Albino rats and albino people are more or less familiar to everybody. Out in the Missouri botanical garden, however, there was recently an albino California redwood tree. It was grown in a bowl from a piece of redwood bark. Shoots and leaves springing from this bark were perfectly white. Roots did not develop and the shoots died but the mystery is not yet solved as to why the green color pigment of the normal redwood was lacking.

Savior of Denmark.

Young Captain Delgas learned that running water was the death of heat which in the early part of the Nineteenth century overran the lands of Denmark and threatened to make it a desert waste. He, accordingly, put the people to digging ditches and canals. Pigs, cows and sheep began to grow and cows and pigs followed. The waste was reclaimed in good time and Denmark became a land of butter, eggs and bacon.

Peculiar Idea of Card Playing.

In olden times card playing was regarded as essentially a Christian pastime, and a statute of Henry VII forbids card playing save during the Christmas holidays.

W. D. Brinnier Was Appointed

William D. Brinnier was appointed a member of the board of education Thursday evening by Mayor Morris Block to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, W. D. Brinnier, Sr. Mr. Brinnier is one of the best known of the younger members of the Ulster county bar. The appointment was unanimously confirmed by the common council.

He Helped Nominete Abe Lincoln.

Addison G. Proctor, 85 years old, is believed to be the sole surviving delegate to the famous Wigwam Republican National Convention of 1860, at which Abraham Lincoln was nominated for the Presidency of the United States. He lives in St. Joe, Mich. When asked his opinion on radio, women's suffrage, cement sidewalks and flappers he approved radio and cement sidewalks.

BOOK AGENTS AND VISIONS

We sat in a little restaurant out in Mankato, Minn., and talked of many things. Two things I chiefly remember. One was the enthusiasm and determination that Josephine Sizer was putting into her new job of being president of the Minnesota W. C. T. U. The other was the story of how she got her training in leading folks. That she does lead them is evidenced by the fact that some 20,000 people annually go to hear her lecture, especially in churches, camp meetings and Bible institutes.

Once upon a time, so the story ran, Mrs. Sizer was far from well. The doctor prescribed an absolute change of scene, new people, new interests. Now Josephine Sizer was the shy, devoted wife of a Methodist minister. She shrank not only from strangers, but from anything that would make her prominent even among her husband's congregation. And the family purse was the proverbially lean article possessed by a country minister.

As she did her housework, dreams of far people and places born of the doctor's prescription slipped into her mind. And along came a stranger who made those vague dreams real. Under his arm was a volume of a famous series of lectures. Warned by his lecturer's attention, he grew eloquent. Finally, "Why, those books are as good as a trip!" exclaimed the woman.

An admit question from the man, and her story was out. Her enthusiasm for the travel lectures persisted. The stranger saw its value to his company. He persuaded her, the shy little woman, to share her vision with other household women. She learned to talk, to sell ideas as well as books. She regained her health. She made money.

Then—"Why, if I have this gift," she said to herself, "I ought to put it to still better service." So she has done so.

Gateway of Sahara.

Tripoli, now under Italian rule, is called the "Gateway to the Sahara," and the caravan trade to and from the city through the desert is enormous. All goods are transported by baggage camels, called in Tripoli jamaals. Ivory, ostrich feathers, gum arabic, cloth from the Kano dye pits, rhino horns, leather, etc., are brought in in great quantities from various parts of central Africa. The Sahara is peopled by several very fierce tribes called Tuaregs, who levy on the caravans enormous taxes as tribute for their safe conduct through the desert. Nor does this always suffice; more times than are pleasant the caravans are raided, the personnel killed or captured, and all goods and animals taken.

Moss as Fire Fighter.

The heavy gray moss which grows on trees in the Douglas fir regions of the Northwest, is being used by United States forest service experts to indicate the danger of an outbreak of forest fires. The amount of moisture in this moss promptly changes with the slightest change in the amount of moisture in the air. By placing a quantity of the moss on a balance with a pen arm attached, changes in relative humidity are recorded satisfactorily. By close observations in this way, the approach of such exceptional dryness and possible fire losses can be detected.

JOAN WHITNEY TO BE BRIDE.

Miss Joan Whitney, C. S. Payson

The engagement has been announced in New York City of Miss Joan Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, to Charles Shuman Payson, of Portland, Maine. Miss Whitney's father is the multi-millionaire sportsman and her mother a famous sculptress. Miss Whitney herself is prominent in the affairs of the Junior League. Payson rowed on the Yale crews that were triumphant in 1919 and 1921. He graduated in 1921 and is now studying law at Harvard.

While working in that city he was transferred to the commercial department in May, 1920, doing public relations work. During the fall and winter of 1922 and 1923 he was in charge of a series of special demonstrations to bring the workings of a telephone office to the public.

One of the most successful of these programs was given in December, 1922, before the district governors of the Rotary Club in the Mohawk Golf Club. This was given cordial recognition in the form of letters to the company. The demonstrations were made all over the eastern section of the state, from Beacon to Watertown, and consisted of installations of switchboard trained operators to explain the workings of a central office.

Mr. Snyder came to this city last fall to assist Mr. Cozzens. His residence is now in Albany but he plans to build here and move to this city in the spring. He is married and has one boy, Richard, aged eight years. His wife was formerly Miss Florence Dedrick, daughter of W. P. Dedrick of Kingston. In Albany he was president of the Men's Club of the Sixth Reformed Church and secretary of the federated men's clubs of the city.

Mr. Cozzens has been local commercial manager for 15 years, and the rapid growth of the company here is due in great measure to his management. Since coming to this city he has seen the number of telephones in operation increase from less than 3,000 to the present total of 18,500. In appreciation of his services the company has retained him in an active position, rather than put him on the retired list.

MOTHER OF SIX ON TRIAL AS MURDERESS

Mrs. Elmona Lombardi and children.

Above is pictured Mrs. Elmona Lombardi, with her six children. She is now on trial at White Plains, N. Y., on a charge of first degree murder for killing Vincenzo Costa, whose family had charged her with putting the "evil eye" on him, a charge she said would make her a social outcast. She is here shown in the jail kissing Violet, aged 4, and holding Clara, 17 months old, on her lap. The others are Anthony, 14; Victoria, 11; Tessa, 12, and Gabelle, 9.

Wales Breaks His Collarbone

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, Feb. 8.—While riding on the Billington Steeple Chase course today, the Prince of Wales was thrown from his horse, breaking his collarbone.

After the accident the prince wanted to remount his horse but his equerry persuaded him to consult a doctor.

"I suppose I had better do that," replied the prince. "There is a pain above the chest and may be my collar bone is broken."

The prince had consented to ride in a race over the Billington Steeple Chase course, which is near Leighton-Buzzard, Bedfordshire, and was practising for the event when he was hurt.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATRES

It is announced that "Little Old New York" will be shown again tonight at the Keeney Theatre. Marion Davies plays the leading role, as Patricia O'Day, in which she plays the role of a boy. The picture was adapted to the screen by Luther Reed from the stage play by Rida Johnson Young. "Red Lights" will be shown at the Keeney's on Saturday.

At the Opera House at tonight's performances a first class vaudeville program will be staged. The picture "The Mysterious Witness" will also be shown. This bill will be repeated again on Saturday. The picture is a vivid drama of living people and of mother love that goes deep.

At the Auditorium today William Farnum in "Brass Commandments." Wanda Hawley plays opposite Farnum. Tom Santschi is the turking villain. Claire Adams does an interesting bit of acting, while Charles LeMayne, Lon Hoff and Al Fremont are included among the players. Screen enthusiasts will recall the unforgettable struggle between William Farnum and Tom Santschi in "The Spoilers."

At the Orpheum Theatre today Preferred Pictures' film version of "The Broken Wing," one of the most successful Broadway plays of recent years, is now on view. The original stage piece by Paul Dickey and Charles W. Goddard obviously contained all the elements necessary to good "picture stuff" but its producers have done what too few producers do—they have made the most of every situation the manuscript offered and have reduced them to celluloid with every foot a thrill, a laugh or a tear. Also six acts of vaudeville.

Elmendorf Street Church Notes.
Miss Ethel Mauterstock has been engaged as organist and also to have full charge of the music. She begins her work on Sunday. At the vaudeville service on Sunday, Dr. Gady will show sixty pictures illustrating the country through which Israel passed to the conquest of the Promised Land. Among the pictures will be a number of the "Rainbow City of the Desert." Mrs. Wood will sing a solo at this service and she and Miss Luiketter will sing a duet.

Hawaiian Customs

Many of the old Hawaiian customs are being discarded; but surfing and surf-canoeing are as popular today as ever they were.
Hawaiian seafarers often wander down the beaches and street, playing and singing in the inimitable Hawaiian way. Tossing, or tobogganning down grassy slopes on slick-leaves is another thoroughly Hawaiian custom. Tuna, or Hawaiian feasts, and hula, or pulling in the great fish nets, are often arranged for the edification of the visitors.

No prettier or more touching custom may be witnessed than that of placing leis, or wreaths of flowers, around the necks of arriving or departing relatives or friends.

These are practically the only distinctly Hawaiian customs remaining in general use today.—F. M. Halton in Adventure Magazine.

Remarkable Island.

One of the most remarkable islands in the world is Patmos, where St. John wrote the Book of Revelation. It was always the destination of thousands of pilgrims, and in the old days the rich men who wished to expiate his sins usually did so by building a church. The result is that this tiny island contains the ruins of no fewer than 300 churches.

U. S. BALLOONS GIVE AIR INFORMATION

Weather Bureau Makes Observations at Six Points.

Washington.—In connection with its aerological investigations the weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture makes many free air observations by means of kites and balloons. This work has become an important part of the bureau's program. Observations with kites during the last year were made regularly at Broken Arrow, Okla.; Drexel, Neb.; Due West, S. C.; Ellendale, N. D.; Groesbeck, Tex.; and Royal Center, Ind. Kite flights are made daily whenever possible, and, in addition, when conditions are favorable, continuous series of flights are made for periods of 24 to 36 hours. Records of air pressure, temperature, humidity and wind are thus obtained.

Observations by means of pilot balloons were made at the six kite stations, above listed, and at Burlington, Vt.; Denver, Colo.; Ithaca, N. Y.; Key West, Fla.; Lansing, Mich.; Madison, Wis.; San Francisco, Cal.; San Juan, P. R., and Washington, D. C. The observations are made twice daily at the six kite stations and at Key West, Fla., and Washington, D. C., and once each day at the remaining stations, and the computed wind conditions at various heights are telegraphed to district forecast centers at Washington, D. C.; Chicago, Ill., and San Francisco, Cal., where they form the basis for "flying weather" forecasts issued to the military, naval and postal aviation services.

Special observations have been made, when requested, for use in connection with such events as long-distance flights and free-balloon races.

Police Find House Filled With Toys

Olympia, Wash.—With his house filled with toys, small articles of merchandise and gimcracks, sufficient almost to stock a small variety store, Schuyler King, aged twenty years and married, was placed under arrest after a raid on his place under search warrant by Deputy Sheriffs Hardwick and Baker.

King had formerly been employed at the Hanson Variety store and Convery's 5 and 10-cent store and was alleged to have stolen and packed home a weird and amazing collection of articles, numerous trains of tin cars, teddy bears, dolls and other toys, including a little steam engine, which he had evidently been running for his own amusement.

All told, ten boxes of the toys were packed up by the sheriff's force. Even the doorknobs of the doors of the little house King had recently built, were said by officers, to have been stolen.

A charge of grand larceny was filed against him.

Many Stock Owners Used National Forest Ranges

Washington.—Nearly 38,000 owners of cattle, sheep, horses, swine, and goats received permits to graze stock on the ranges within the national forests during the calendar year 1922, according to the tabulated statement appearing in the annual report of the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture.

Altogether 6,851,680 sheep, 1,015,113 cattle, 69,040 horses, 39,889 goats, and 1,888 swine grazed on the forests, exclusive of animals under six months of age which do not require permits. These numbers were fractionally below those for 1921, primarily because of stock sales to reduce indebtedness plus the inability of many stockmen to meet the grazing charges which forced them to hold their stock on their own lands.

Plan to Use Hypnosis in Treating Diseases

St. Louis.—Science is making head way in hypnotism and eventually hopes to use it in the treatment of many diseases, according to a paper by Professor G. Talbot of the University of Nebraska, read at the convention here of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Experiments, Professor Talbot asserted, showed that suggestions transmitted to persons in a hypnotic state carry with them changes in blood pressure similar to changes which the suggested act would in reality produce. Such changes may be recorded scientifically, he added.

Historic Site Is Menaced by U. S.

Vancouver, Wash.—A proposed new building to be erected by the United States bureau of roads on the military reservation south of Fifth street will cut off a corner of the old Hudson Bay stockade site, according to recent survey made by officers of the post. A memorial has been presented to congress asking that an appropriation be made to restore the old stockade in the original form by 1925, when the centenary of the settlement of Vancouver will be celebrated.

The celebration, as planned, will center around the old stockade and will include bands of Indians, trappers, voyageurs and immigrant trains coming in to the Hudson Bay post.

DETAILS OF TERPENING'S DEATH ARE RECEIVED.

Mrs. Terpening, widow of Chief Carpenter's Mate Gilbert W. Terpening, U. S. N., and a former Kingston girl, has received the following letter from Chief Gunner Clarence L. Tibbals, commanding the U. S. S. Falcon, to which Chief Carpenter's Mate Terpening was attached, giving details of the latter's death and expressing the regret and sympathy of the Falcon's officers and crew at his death:

U. S. S. Falcon, Great Harbor, Culebra, Porto Rico, January 2, 1924.

My Dear Mrs. Terpening:
I wish to express to you in your profound sorrow the sympathy of the commanding officer, officers and crew of this vessel for the loss of your most esteemed husband. The accident which caused the death of your husband is regretted by all, and I assure you that everything was done by the shipmates, who were with him at the time, to assist him to safety.

Your husband was on liberty, and with several others went bathing on a sea beach. The place they selected had an unseen danger—a heavy undertow. In trying to assist your husband three other men were overcome. Your husband in the meantime had disappeared. It remained for the fourth man to rescue the three men, one of whom was unconscious from drowning, but fortunately was revived. The body of our excellent shipmate, Mr. Terpening, was washed ashore some half hour after he disappeared beneath the surface. Every means was used to revive him, but without signs of returning life.

I only mention the above incident that you may know that his shipmates did everything in their power to rescue your husband, even unto death themselves.

That you may know the after detail, the body was transferred to the naval hospital, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, for further despatch as ordered by the Navy Department.

Again please permit me to express our sorrow to you and your little ones for the loss of your husband and their father.

Respectfully,
C. L. TIBBALL,
Commanding Officer.

Big Barn With 16 Cows Burned

Fire of unknown origin wiped out the big barn of William Pintard at Rifton about 11 o'clock Thursday evening. Fifteen cows and a bull in the barn were also burned with the contents of the building. Neighbors attracted to the scene were able with great difficulty to rescue the four horses in the barn, but found it impossible to get the other animals out.

At the time Mr. Pintard was in Kingston attending the theater, and stated today that he had no idea of what caused the fire. He said the loss was partly covered by insurance. The barn was a frame structure 87 feet long by 24 feet wide.

Fortunately at the time of the fire the wind was blowing in an opposite direction from Pintard's hotel and dance hall, nearby, which were not damaged by the flames.

At the time the fire was discovered it had made considerable headway, and as there are no facilities for fighting fire there it was found impossible to save the building.

TO THE TOWN BOARD OF THE TOWN OF WOODSTOCK.

GENTLEMEN: In assuming the duties of Supervisor and investigating financial conditions of the town, I found a situation which I consider should be brought immediately to your attention. The town is in a very bad financial condition, so that a misapprehension may arise in the future concerning it.

The books of the town show and there has been paid over to me the following balances:

General fund	$215.99
Highway fund	12.30
Bridge fund	1.00
Machinery fund	15.50
Miscellaneous fund	7.50
Four fund	1.00
School fund	1.00
County road fund	15.50

It will therefore be observed that the town is without funds until the taxes are collected for the current year, which by the way, are all obligated with the exception of the amounts raised for highway purposes. The worst of the situation, however, is that there are several bills which remain unpaid which are as follows:

Universal Road Machinery Co.	$1,012.00
United Construction Co.	1,535.82
Kingston Trust Co. certificate	1,535.82
Indebtedness and interest	1,000.00
It. Kofe	15.01

No provision has been made for the payment of these bills, although they were incurred during 1923, and should have been arranged for in the present tax levy.

It will therefore be observed that if these claims are paid, it will entail a very great additional tax burden in the year 1924.

I have consulted the county attorney, who advises me that if the claims are just ones, which I believe they are, the only solution will be to obtain from the Legislature an Act authorizing the town board to authorize the raising of bonds in order to pay the same.

In as much as I am in no way responsible for the situation which exists, I deem that it should be brought to your attention, which explains this report.

Respectfully submitted,

GEO. H. ELWYN, Supervisor.

Origin of Word Huzzar.

The word huzzar was first applied to the light cavalry troops raised by Matthias Corvinus in 1485 to fight against the Turks. The word was derived from a Magyar word, "huzzar," meaning twenty, the method of selection being every twentieth man in the community. The term huzzar was adopted by a regiment of British cavalry in 1803, and has since then been applied to certain bodies of light cavalry in many countries.

Unique Band Saw.

There is in use an ingenious sort of band saw for coarse work, such as felling trees and saving stove wood. The saw, instead of being a continuous ribbon-like blade, is made up of links, like those of the driving chain of a bicycle. On their outer side they have teeth of extremely hard steel. The endless chain is supported on four ball-bearing sprocket wheels mounted in a light metal frame. A five-horsepower benzine motor drives it.

Dictated but Not Read.

The correspondent of a large business concern had been invited out to dinner. The host asked him to say grace. It was a new experience but he was not wanting. "Dear Lord, we thank Thee for all Thy favors of recent date. Permit us to express our heartfelt gratitude. We trust that we may continue to merit Your confidence and that we shall receive many more blessings from You in the future. Amen."—Store News.

Flower 12 Inches Across.

A flower blooms on a tree of great size and strength growing in the sides of Mount Agui, a high peak near the volcano of Fuego among the mountains of Central America. The blossom measures about 12 inches across. It gets its name from the fact that the Indians believe that the crater of this volcano is the entrance to hell and that the flower is a native of that region. The flower is dark brown in color.

Penny-in-Slot Elevator.

A penny-in-the-slot automatic elevator recently has been invented. Inserting a coin, the passenger enters the car and presses a button displaying the number of the floor he wants. The car automatically stops at that floor.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Dodging the Dangers.

The Casting Director—"I can give you the lead in this new picture, but you'll have to play opposite your former wife, who's already signed up." The Movie Hero—"That'll be all right. I have a double who'll sub for me in the love scenes."

High-Resistance Vacuum Bottle.

A vacuum bottle of foreign manufacture has for an inner lining steel glass of more than three times the usual thickness, and it is claimed this will not break even when submitted to rapid changes in the temperature of the liquid.

Society Notes

No Hogan-Herrick Wedding.

The announcement of the marriage of Ruth W. Herrick of West Hurley and Charles Hogan of Ashokan, in The Freeman of Saturday, February 2, was untrue in every particular, no such marriage having taken place.

Olympian Club.

The Olympian Club met Monday with Miss Case. Miss Sullivan gave the program for the evening. A sketch of the life of Fannie Hurst was read from a collection of short biographies by Blanche Williams.

This sketch opened the way for an interesting discussion concerning Miss Hurst's ideas of work and career. A well chosen reading: "The Water, Please," taken from the author's book entitled "Gaslight Sonatas," afforded the club members no little enjoyment. Roll call was answered by Lincoln quotations. The club meets next with Miss Jennie Riskey.

Harcourt-Ackerly.

A quiet home wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's niece, Mrs. F. B. Seeley, when Mrs. Eva St. Clair Ackerly of 772 St. Nicholas avenue, New York City, was married to Frank Harcourt of 597 West 160th street, New York City, by the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church. Only the immediate family were present at the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Harcourt left immediately after the ceremony for an extended wedding trip to California. On their return they will make their home in New York City, where Mr. Harcourt is traffic manager for a large shipping house.

Purcell-Archer.

Mr. and Mrs. David Purcell announce the marriage of their son, Tracy Earl, to Ruth G. Archer, daughter of Samuel B. Archer of Saratoga. The couple were united in marriage February 4 at the home of the bride. The bride is a graduate of Saratoga High School and of the Albany Business College, of which school the groom was also a graduate. After a short honeymoon trip the young couple will make their home in Albany, N. Y., where Mr. Purcell is an employee of the Texas Oil Co. Many friends wish Mr. and Mrs. Purcell much happiness and joy in their future life.

D. A. R. Meeting.

There was a large attendance at the February meeting of the Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R., at the Chapter House on Thursday afternoon. Following the opening exercises of the chapter, the regent, Mrs. Henry Van Hoven, called for a few moments' silence out of respect to the late War President after which prayer was offered by Mrs. Zabriskie. Short tributes to the memory of ex-President Wilson were then read by Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Fessenden and Mrs. Roosa, after which the regular program for the afternoon arranged by Mrs. E. O. Wood was given. The program opened with two delightful violin solos played by Mrs. Florence Cumberly, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. William S. Eltinge. Mrs. Ralph Wheeler then gave a most interesting and timely paper on "The Constitution of the United States," interpolating a sketch on the Constitution by Benjamin Franklin, which had been sent to the meeting by Augustus H. Van Buren through Mrs. T. D. Lewis. After Mrs. Wheeler's excellent paper, Mrs. Cumberly played two more violin solos and the meeting adjourned omitting the social hour as the final tribute to the memory of ex-President Wilson.

Cahill-Bracken.

The wedding of Miss Anna Frances Bracken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Bracken of 459 East 134th street, New York City, and George A. Cahill, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cahill of 38 Cedar street, New Haven, Conn., formerly of this city, took place on Thursday, January 31, in St. Jerome's R. C. Church, Alexander avenue and 138 street, New York City. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father J. Burns assisted by the Rev. Fathers M. Huley and William Lawlor. During the solemn ceremony Miss Vera Hansen, cousin of the bride, sang the wedding solo. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and had as her maid of honor her sister, Miss Katherine L. Bracken, and as her bridesmaids, the Misses Anna May Connors, Gertrude C. Cunningham, Dolores B. Keage, Marie W. Bergin, Helen A. Parnaby and Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, sister of the groom. There were also two small flower girls, Ruth and Bernice DeVine. Thomas J. Cahill was his brother's best man. The ushers were Wesley Frazer, Harry Jones, Robert Burns, and Frank Roth. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white velvet with a veil of Irish point lace, carried with orange blossoms and a court train falling from her shoulders. Her bouquet was of bride's roses with a shower of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor's gown was of pale blue chiffon velvet, draped and caught with a pearl ornament. She wore a hat to match and carried pink roses. The six bridesmaids all wore frocks of orchid taffeta, having light bodices and bouffant skirts with hats to match, and carried bouquets of purple and yellow pansies. The flower girls wore pale blue georgette frocks with rosebuds in their hair and carried baskets of pink roses. Following the ceremony there was a large reception and wedding supper at the home of the bride's parents. The house was attractively decorated with roses and daffodils, palms and ferns. Later Mr. and Mrs. Cahill left on a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and other points south. When they return they will reside in New York City. Mr. Cahill is a popular passenger conductor of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co. Among the guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. John Cahill, Sr., Edwin and Ellen Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. John Cahill, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. W. Grooman, John Gilmore, Miss Helen A. Parnaby, A. York, Miss Helen Burke, Miss B.

Woodstock Needs Financial Aid

Supervisor Elwyn in Advertisement in The Freeman Outlines Situation in That Township—$1,100 on Hand and Town Owes $3,500.

The town of Woodstock is in financial straits judging from an advertisement inserted in The Freeman by Supervisor George H. Elwyn in which he calls attention of the taxpayers of that township to the fact that when he assumed office the first of the year there was turned over to him approximately $1,100 and that since then he had received bills totalling approximately $3,500.

If these claims, for which no provision had been made for payment, are paid it will entail a "very great additional tax burden in the year 1924." The bills were incurred in 1923.

Supervisor Elwyn states that he had consulted the county attorney, who advised him that if the claims are just ones, which he believed they were, the only solution would be to obtain from the legislature an act authorizing the town board to audit the bills and to issue certificates of indebtedness or bonds in order to pay the bills.

"In as much as I am in no way responsible for the situation which exists, I deem it should be brought to your attention, which explains this report." The supervisor says in the advertisement.

Johanna Flynn, widow of Timothy J. Enright, died in this city Thursday, February 7. Funeral from the residence of her son, Cornelius Enright, 128 Newkirk avenue, on Monday morning, February 11, at 9:30 o'clock and at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock with a solemn Mass of requiem for the repose of her soul. On Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association will assemble at the late home for recitation of the rosary. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mrs. Louisa Skidmore, wife of the late James H. Skidmore, of Milton, died on Wednesday in her 70th year. Death followed within a week, a stroke. Mrs. Skidmore for a quarter of a century a Milton resident, had been living with her daughter, Mrs. D. H. Fowler, wife of a Newburgh man, now deceased. Another daughter, Miss Caroline Skidmore, is a nurse in Dr. Winter's sanitarium in Cornwall, and a third, Lulu, is married and lives in Germany. Funeral services in All Saints' Church, Milton, on Saturday at 3. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

For St. John's Girls.

The Junior Auxiliary of St. John's Church will hold a meeting at the Parish House on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Every girl in the parish is cordially invited to come to the meeting.

Murderer Pays.

Columbus, O., Feb. 8.—Convicted of the murder of his wife in a quarrel over money, Mike Zipichic, 56, a Serb, was electrocuted today.

Van Bramer Has Resigned.

Vincent Van Bramer, well known local dancer, has resigned his position as dancing instructor at the Rialto Dancing Academy. Other business required his full attention and this is the reason for his retirement, he announces.

Benedictine Alumnae Meeting.

The alumnae of the Benedictine Hospital will hold a special meeting at the nurses home on Monday evening, February 11, at 7:15 o'clock.

General Dead.

Madrid, Feb. 8.—General Marino Rodriguez, of the Spanish infantry, died today.

Giant Waterspout Recorded.

A Washington scientist has recorded the particulars concerning a great waterspout he observed south of Cape Cod on a day when the weather was fine and the sea smooth, says the Washington Star. The waterspout formed between a russet-gray cloud and the sea nearly five miles from the ship. At first the distance between the base of the cloud and the surface of the sea was 4,000 feet and the width of the column tapered from 500 feet at its juncture with the cloud to 150 feet at the sea. The vortex appeared to be a tube with tapering sides and a central column. The walls seemed to consist of water moving downward and the central column of water ascending. The phenomenon lasted for 13 minutes. The walls broke and the central column appeared to ascend into the cloud.

The photograph shows a group of Parisian female Robin Hoods at practice for the coming Olympic games to be held in Paris next year, where they hope to uphold France's honor in archery.

That Was Sufficient

When followers of the Illinois football team were unable to attend games and inquired of Bob Zupke what the result was, the Illini coach merely replied, "Grange played."

Sport Notes

Boston has 21 municipal rinks for ice hockey and other winter sports.

The Southern Intercollegiate conference is now made up of 21 institutions.

Pelota is the national game of Cuba. It is one of the various forms of hand ball.

Golf players in the United States pay approximately $10,000,000 yearly to caddies.

Paderewski, the famous pianist, who is sixty-three years of age, is a keen billiard player.

Pennsylvania is considering widening its highway bridges to accommodate date auto traffic.

Golf balls cost 2,500,000 marks each in Germany. Caddie service costs 100,000 marks a round.

What a lot of terrific batting is done in both leagues in the winter when nobody is pitching.

Percy Wendell, former Harvard football star, has been engaged to return as Williams' football coach next year.

Joe Dugan, Yankee third baseman with the trick knee, has left a hospital in New York city and has gone to "work."

Dr. R. D. Orok has been elected president of the Le Pas Dog derby and winter carnival which will start on March 11, 1924.

Harvard will lose seven regulars this year, so the prospects for the 1924 football team may be said to be not unusually bright.

Manager Marty Grog of the Los Angeles team will not attempt to play ball next season, he says. He will be a bench manager.

John McGraw and George Siler were about the only major league managers marked up as absent at the Chicago baseball meeting.

The Athletics and the Phillies will have a real "city championship series" next April. They have agreed to play seven games, beginning April 1.

Charley See, sold by San Francisco to Minneapolis, ought to know where he belongs by this time. He has done a lot of shifting in the past few years.

Otto Melvor, veteran outfielder, who managed Sherman to a pennant in the Texas association last summer, will lead Waco in the same league next season.

The Philadelphia Nationals and the Los Angeles Coasters have called off a proposed deal by which Outfielder Wally Hood would have come from the Angels to the Phillies.

True to traditions of Baltimore players who advance, Max Bishop is said to be asking a slice of the money the Philadelphia Athletics are to pay Jack Dunn for his release.

Paul Castner, Notre Dame athlete, who failed as a ball player in the big show and has been booked for the minors again by the Chicago White Sox, says he'll quit the game.

Rather odd, but the Decatur club of the Three-I purchased two ex-managers of the defunct Rockford club, when it took Brandt and Rigby, shortstop and catcher respectively.

John J. McHugh of New York city, an expert in athletics, starts no fewer than 6,000 races yearly. In his 23 years of service he is said to have fired more shots than any living person.

Other Cities to Hear From. Cincinnati women, according to claims advanced by that city, have the shapeliest feet and are the best of any women in the world. The average size is from five and one-half to six.

YALE CAPTURES MANY HONORS DURING 1923

Comes Back to Own After Several Lean Years.

The success of the athletic program at Yale was the big feature in college sports for 1923. The victory of the Yale football team over all of its opponents, including Harvard, brought to an end one of the most successful seasons in the history of the New Haven institution.

Yale holds championship honors in basketball, swimming, horse polo, golf and rifle, and shares with Cornell the eastern football title and with Washington the national intercollegiate rowing honors. The Elis' varsity crew, by virtue of its victory over Columbia, can lay claim to the rowing title of the East.

In the competition between the members of the "Big Three" fraternity, the Elis have won everything with the exception of water polo and hockey. Princeton captured the water polo title and Harvard the hockey championship. A goal by George Owen, after two extra periods of play had been ordered, was responsible for Yale's defeat on the ice.

At the close of 1922 Yale had a poor football year and finished last in the Eastern Basketball league. Its crew had only been able to win from Harvard.

In 1923 Tad Jones got his football system working properly and gave Yale an undefeated team. Joe Fogarty, a former assistant at Pennsylvania, in his first season at New Haven, produced a championship basketball team from mediocre material. Ed Leader, fresh from his triumphs on the Pacific coast with the University of Washington squads, developed an eight which won from Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, Princeton and Pennsylvania.

Yale is still supreme in swimming. Bob Kiputh's team won with ease from Princeton, Brown and the Navy. Yale's only serious rivals in the tank.

Champion Hoppe Misses Chance to Make Record

Willie Hoppe had a chance to break the world's record average for 1,500 points in a championship match when he played Welker Cochran recently in the Chicago play-off for the title. In the third block Hoppe had 407 points in the first five innings for a total of 1,407 points in 22 innings and a grand average of 63.21-22 points an inning. When the new record seemed certain Hoppe took 12 innings to gather the 87 points needed to complete the 1,500 string. His grand average for this match was 44.4-34. Hoppe, however, holds the grand average record, having maintained a pace of 55.13-27 points an inning in a tournament match with George Sotton February 24 and 25, 1914.

Cult in New Mexico Crucifies Its Members

Medievalism is not exclusively to be applied to the Dark Ages. That emotional fervor which led men to tramp thousands of miles to slay the Seljuk Turk and to walk barefoot over the Alpine snows in penitence exists in only a slightly attenuated form in New Mexico and Arizona, where the Penitente sect crucifies one of its cult each year.

The Penitentes or, to give them their full title, Los Hermanos Penitentes, are Mexicans and Indians, living in isolated mountain villages, who trace their ancestry back to the Aztecs. Shortly after the conquest of Mexico by Cortez many of the subjects of Montezuma were converted to Christianity. Despite the doctrines of clemency and kindness taught them, the savagery of the novitiates persisted in their religious rituals. So staggering were their practices of self-flagellation and torture that the Catholic church, which had hoped to efface the Aztec institution of human sacrifice, finally divorced them from the fold. Since that time, more than a hundred years ago, the Penitentes have existed in independent organization, sponsored by no denomination, but almost completely unhampered by governmental action.

The week preceding Easter is the one period of the year when these people are most conspicuous. The first days are spent in fasting. The last ones are spent in flagellations, which finally terminate in the crucifixion of some one of the cult chosen by lot. The congregation of every Penitente colony meets in the little village chapel, called the "morada." After the devotions of Good Friday are ended the cross-bearer leaves the church, to be followed in single file up the mountain by the entire congregation.

After attaining the spot fixed for his execution the victim is strapped to the cross with heavy thongs and is raised into the air. Ceremonials in charge of the "Great Brother" or "Hermano Mayor" dispensed with, the crucified man, exhausted, but not very greatly impaired physically, is released from the cross and goes to his home. It is the belief of the cult that the victim of the cross has merited reward not only for himself but also for his parents, his wife and all his progeny, future moral infractions being automatically expiated by his ordeal of the past.

Cause of Storms

In November, when the lands surrounding the Great Lakes got their first snowfall, and the lake waters are still relatively warm, the temperature contrasts which are produced tend actively to attract and intensify the passing storms. When the air to the northward is abnormally cold, as the wind sweeps down from that quarter a storm may assume a menacing severity, with a heavy gale, extreme cold and snow the worst kind of a combination for the seaman. Lake shipping suffers. Storms of the great inland seas are more disastrous than those of the open ocean, because there is less space for drifting, and because of powerful lake currents during gales which take the ship out of control. Also, the fresh lake water is lighter than the salt water of the ocean and is, therefore, more easily heaped up into great waves by a strong wind. When the December gales arrive and the snowstorms, which continue till spring, shipping remains safe in port, for ice closes the lakes to navigation.

Serum for Swamp Fever

The delegates of the American farm bureau, during a visit to the Alfortville agricultural research laboratory in France, were interested in the experiments of Professor Vallee in the effort to develop a serum which would render horses immune to "swamp fever."

The professor has actually isolated the germ of the disease, according to the report, and has prepared a serum which he says will cure the disease and render horses immune.

Aside from the professor's discovery, the delegation admired greatly the French laboratory, some going so far as to say that it excelled in some respects similar institutions in America.—New York Times

Delaware Indians Active

No longer content to watch the world of affairs revolve around them the Delaware Indians are striving to attain a new form of cultural life. To that end the remaining members of the tribe which once flourished in what is now Delaware, have held several assemblies and formed a council designed to look after their cultural interests. The movement has attracted attention of the educators at several of the Eastern universities.

Made All but the Hole

Little Betty was very proud of a jumper she had knitted. She showed it to her mother's friend. "And did you make this all by yourself, Betty, dear?" the friend asked. "Nearly, but not quite," said Betty, who was a stickler for the truth. "I made it all but the hole you put your head through."

Absent-Minded

Husband—I forgot my umbrella this morning, dear.

Wife (sarcastically)—However did you come to remember you had forgotten it?

Husband—Well, I shouldn't have missed it, dear, only I raised my hand to shut it when the rain ceased.

Marriage Age in Turkey

Under the Turkish law there is no minimum age fixed for the marriage of girls. Any miss who can "walk properly and can understand the necessary religious service" is permitted to become a wife.

OLD FORT NIAGARA IS STILL USED BY U. S.

Ancient Fortification Once Capital of Great Empire

Old Fort Niagara, once capital of an enormous empire and long the castle of the emperor, in fact it is not in name, is one of the most antique fortifications now in use, says Col. Frederick D. Evans. There has been a commanding officer at the post continuously since 1679, when La Salle constructed and occupied with his hardy voyagers Fort Conti on the present site of Niagara. The post is located on a wooded peninsula stretching into the water between the Niagara river and Lake Ontario. Of the 288 acres which comprise the reservation fully 115 are covered with great oaks, a virgin forest on slightly rolling land. The post itself harmonizes with the rugged landscape, although the buildings and equipment have been made modern in every way.

The castle or chateau of the old fort has a beauty of architecture surprising when the time and circumstances of its building are considered. It was completed in 1726, all of the material for its construction having been brought from the French settlements on the St. Lawrence. The magazine was added in 1767.

A bastioned stockade of earth and tree trunks was built around the castle in 1731, which inclosed about an acre of ground. Shortly afterward the energetic elder Pitt came into power in the British parliament and bent his will to taking all Canada and the Mississippi valley from France. The capture of the key fort, Niagara, was an important part of his plans.

Twice, in 1755 and 1756, the English launched expeditions against the fort, but the French never reached the fort, although they served to arouse the French government to a state of alarm, and one of the most trusted French colonial military leaders, Pouchot, was sent to take command in 1757. Pouchot enlarged the defensive works eight separate times during his residence in the chateau.

The British in their third attempt to take the fort met with success. In 1759 Sir William Johnson took up his duties there and during the 16 years which he remained became the most powerful man in western America. Continuing, Colonel Evans says: "During the Revolutionary war Fort Niagara was a thorn, about the size of a railroad spike, in the thigh of the colonies. It was from the castle that expeditions which ravaged southern New York and Pennsylvania were directed. The Wyoming Cherry valley and Schoharie massacres were all projected there, and Fort Niagara became a prize scalp market. White scalps reached a market value at one time of about $9, but the payment was usually made in goods in various sorts. Even after the signing of peace at the close of the Revolutionary war, in 1783, Great Britain retained Fort Niagara, relinquishing it in 1796, when it was occupied for the first time by United States troops.

"The first American flag to fly from the castle after it had been taken over was carried there through the then wilderness by the Empire Loyalists club. The fort was again under the cross of Saint George during the War of 1812, when a party of British and Indians captured it. The terms of peace made the next year required that it be evacuated.

"The present bakery at the post, as well as the old barracks, bastions and block houses were constructed in 1770-1771, surrounding the castle. The Castle of Fort Niagara ranks in American historical importance with Faneuil Hall, Independence Hall and the Citadel at Montreal, although it is older than any of the former. No building in the United States with such a background is so little known or so much neglected.

"Construction of the present post was begun in 1841. It consists of brick barracks for eight organizations with suitable officers' quarters and quarters for 24 married enlisted men. During the World War one of the training camps for officers was located on the post."—U. S. Army Recruiting News.

Tender-Hearted Clara

George was courting Clara. Clara had a dog—one of the kind that barks but seldom bites. George knew the old saying, "Love me, love my dog," and so he courted the dog as well. One day the dog didn't bark, but did bite. "Oh, George!" cried Clara, "what is the matter?" "That confounded dog has taken a piece out of my calf."

"Good gracious!" exclaimed Clara, wringing her hands in anguish. "I hope it will not make him ill!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

American Rhinoceroses. Rhinoceroses formerly ranged over most of America, reaching the eastern coast of Maryland, the Carolinas, and Florida.

$35,000 Stamp
So extensive was the recent international stamp exposition in London that the next one may have to be held in a world's fair building. The observed of all observers was the $35,000 British Gullus stamp, one cent black on magenta, of 1856.

They Dwindle
"No doubt it is a wise plant to tell your troubles."
"Eh?"
"They always seem small to the other fellow."

By Way of Record
"My daughter sprang from a line of peers," said a proud father.
"Well," said her suitor, "I once jumped off a duck myself."

Using Elbow Grease.
When I was a small girl, set to a task uncommonly hard for me, my mother used to say: "Use plenty of elbow grease, daughter, and you can do it." How many times since I have had a home of my own that phrase has come to my mind. It has almost become religious in its nature. It means courage, a renewal of effort, a strengthening, a resolve to try again. I think it was what King Lemuel's mother meant, in the last chapter of Proverbs, "She—strengtheneth her arms." "Elbow grease"—what a homely old phrase it is and how necessary that a mother have it. She may not be particularly smart or handsome, but she's got to know how to work. A sufficient amount of elbow grease will, in a pinch, make up for lack of money, or opportunity, or education—even for a father of the family. The word meant something to my little mother. I never knew anybody that could work harder or more cheerfully.—Margaret W. Jackson, in Farm Life.

Not Large, but—
A rather awkward-looking individual went into an ice cream parlor the other day and bought an ice cream cone. He went out on the sidewalk to eat it. Presently he reappeared with the cone emptied of the cream, and, handing it to the astonished clerk, said: "Thank you for the cone."

Origin of Word "Dago."
Dago was a name originally given by sailors to Spaniards, Portuguese and Italians, and is said to be a corruption of the Spanish name Diego, equivalent to the English name of James or Jack.

Bank's Heater Speedily Mended

Unusually quick work was done in getting the heating plant in the Ulster County Savings Institution, Wall street, in working order again after the damage done to the plant, Monday night when three sections were ruined from overheating by reason of neglect in closing the drafts.

Brown & Dressel, who specialize in heating installations, were notified and on Tuesday when the furnace had become sufficiently cooled off put men at work and dismantled the plant in order to ascertain the damage done and was notification made to the boiler insurance company to send an inspector. He arrived on Wednesday and after his examination a telephone message was sent to the manufacturers in New Jersey to send at once by automobile truck the heavy parts needed. They arrived Thursday morning and a force of men were put at work and in the afternoon the necessary repairs had been completed and it was not long before the fires were started and a short time after the building was heated.

While the heating plant was out of commission during Tuesday, Wednesday and part of Thursday heat was supplied by gas and electric heaters temporarily placed in the several law offices, the C. S. Wood store and in the banking rooms.

PAIR STREET CHURCHMEN TO ENTERTAIN TONIGHT.

This evening the Men's Bible Class of the Pair Street Reformed Church will hold its annual ladies' night dinner for the members of the class and their wives and lady guests in the Sunday school room at 7 o'clock. The speaker of the evening will be Prof. A. B. Bennett, of the New Paltz Normal School. Prof. Bennett is a most witty and entertaining speaker. The kitchen of the church is a place of action today. Ira Woolsey has left off selling clothing to go to work for William Eltinge in order to season the dinner. Jimmie Millard will leave the Lincolns and Fords to cook. George Mains is taking the day off from the coal business to cook. Fred Roosa has stopped building operations today in order to help the cooks. Will Cornell says the paper business will have to take care of itself today as he has to set up the tables with the assistance of Ralph Glendinning, William Dilton and Ferris Davis. Lou Cole, whose business is to build and lay foundations for new business in our city, will see to the laying of a good foundation for the dinner tonight, assisted by George Schryver and Henry Woolsey is there to see that everyone else works. He says his pill factory works whether he is there or not. Eph Burge is thinking of going housekeeping and he is there to see how the cooking is done. Eph believes in preparedness.

KABUL IS MENACE TO INDIA'S PEACE

Capital of the Amir of Afghanistan is Little Known.

"A city the size of Omaha or Atlanta, capital of an independent country of 8,000,000 souls, might be expected to be at least as well known to globe trotters as Bagdad or Rangoon or Seoul," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society dealing with Kabul, seat of the amir of Afghanistan, with whom Great Britain is having friction over the Indian northwest frontier.

"Add that in this city are numerous automobiles, grand pianos, phonographs, sewing machines and other implements connected with the superficial phases of modern civilization," continues the bulletin, "and one expects to find there the usual colony of Westerners that most oriental capitals harbor."

Only Dabbles in Civilization. "But Kabul is not known to travelers and is devoid of a Western colony. It stands out among world capitals because of its discrimination between the things of the West and the people of the West. Some years ago it extended an exploratory toe, so to speak, into the sea of civilization to test the comfort of its temperature; and it has since been wading about ankle deep, seemingly not at all sure that it shall ever want to take the full plunge as did its fellow Asiatic states, Japan and Siam."

"Afghanistan's amir, about the only absolute monarch left after the whirlwind of the World war, sets the pace for his country's and city's acceptance of the ways of the outside world as he sets the pace for most other activities in his personally conducted realm. Modern implements are to his mind more nearly toys than serious devices. Clocks are a fascination to him—probably because Afghanistan is rich in time—and he has caravans of them in his numerous palaces. He caused a huge tower to be constructed in his principal palace grounds and in it installed a great clock such as an American municipality might take pride in."

Keeps Aliens at Arm's Length. "The amir, too, is the chief automobile owner of Kabul, possessing more than 50 cars. He is by no means contemptuous of Western civilization, but he wants to filter in what he desires and to keep the rest—including ambassadors, missionaries and trade representatives—at arm's length. His alertness and determination to know what goes on in the world is indicated by his press service, consisting of a corps of young men educated in India who read outside newspapers brought in by special couriers, translate any news of importance, and serve it up to the amir 'balled down' as do the secretaries of some busy multi-millionaires in America."

"A desire for isolation is a heritage to the Afghan of today from his remote ancestors who 'took to the hills' from the plains to escape being overrun by some of Asia's migrating hordes. This inherent desire has only been intensified by experience down the years; for whenever various conquerors—Alexander, Tamerlane, the Arab caliphs, Persian shahs and Indian potentates—have gotten their foot into Afghanistan's mountain-pass doors they have pushed their way in and made years or decades or centuries of trouble for the people of this Asian Switzerland. The national consciousness might well take form in the slogan: 'Keep the passes closed.'"

Fat-Tailed Sheep. "Afghanistan might be roughly described in a line or two as a land of mountains and deserts, with the deserts separating it from Baluchistan and Persia, and the mountains fencing it off from Russia in the north and British India in the south and east. But among the mountains, it must be added, are many fertile valleys, and on the slopes much fine pasture land. The queer fat-tailed sheep is Afghanistan's most characteristic animal, and about this freakish domestic animal revolves much of the economic life of the land. Its flesh furnishes the chief article of meat diet and the concentrated fat of its great bulging tail serves the Afghan in place of butter. From the sheep skins are made the coats and cloaks of many of the tribesmen, and hides and wool make up an important part of the exports of the country."

"The bulk of the produce of Afghanistan which finds its way to the outside world flows to India through the Khyber pass, the name of which is perhaps more widely known than that of any of the other great defiles of the world. At the Indian end lies Peshawar, continually in the newspaper headlines for turbulence and rumors of turbulence. Just beyond the Afghan end of the long pass, and dominating it from the north, is secretive Kabul. The city lies in a valley more than a mile above sea level, while towering above it are the lofty peaks of the Hindu-Kush mountains, 15,000 to 18,000 feet high near the capital, and reaching the tremendous altitude of 25,425 feet a hundred or so miles to the east."

Coveted by Russia. "British nervousness about Kabul is understandable. Every now and then during the past 2,000 or 3,000 years Kabul has been the base for successful expeditions against India from the north. For the better part of the past century the Russian bear has been extending its claws toward the city."

tending a covetous paw toward this doorway to India. If Britain was permitted a feeling of relief when the World war changed her old Imperial Russian enemy into an ally, the emotion was short-lived. Soviet Russia seems to have taken up the old on-to-India intrigue and is reported to have strong military posts over against Afghanistan and to be at work seeking to acquire political influence in Afghanistan itself.

Chorus Girls Clothed; Theater Seats Cost More. Clothes are becoming more ample on the Paris stage, and the latest spectacular chorus productions have shown a decided reversion to prewar displays of gorgeous costumes. This revival of clothes for stage girls has had its effect upon the box office, for seats have gone up 20 per cent in price to put, it is averred, for the extra yards of silk.

Russian Refugee Outwits Captors and Reaches U. S.

Andre de Prung, athletic young son of the former counselor of state and director of the ministry of finance of Russia and the former Princess Baraboff, has arrived in America after adventures that put to shame many of the heroes of fiction. He spent several months in prison and was twice sentenced to be executed, but outwitted his captors and finally made his way to our shores, where he has commenced a series of violin recitals before society folk. In addition to being one of Europe's greatest violinists, Mr. de Prung is also one of the best continental tennis players and swimmers as well as a fencer of note. His violin—a precious Guarnerius—was the only possession which de Prung managed to bring with him in his escape from Russia. The Russian violinist is also the possessor of a rare Stradivarius.

How to Clean Brushed Wool. Brushed wool can be dry-cleaned, or it can be washed in warm soapsuds made of such soaps as Ivory or Castile. Wash as you would any other woolen goods, being careful to keep the same temperature in all the waters through which the garments are passed. Dry either in the sun or in a warm place. Do not let the garment freeze. After it is thoroughly dry, brush hard with a wire brush. This will give it the desired fluffy appearance.

World's Biggest Gem. What is held to be the largest uncut precious stone in the world is a flawless black opal, discovered in this country and now said to be in the dice of a government official in Washington. The gem contains approximately 21 cubic inches, weighs 372.332 carats and is valued by the owners at $250,000. The colors are translucent blues and greens with a tinge of red. The famous Viennese opal, high was without equal until the American specimen was found, weighs 658.927 carats, but has a number of flaws.

The Harvest Moon. The naval observatory says the ring of the October moon at nearly the same time for several nights is explained in most textbooks of descriptive astronomy under the heading, "The Harvest Moon." The phenomenon occurs most strikingly at the time of the full moon nearest to the autumnal equinox, September 22. At that time the moon's orbit makes a very small angle with the horizon, so that its daily orbital motion does not much retard its time of rising on successive nights.

Perfumes. A Parisian doctor declares that certain perfumes affected by his various patients in their produce an effect upon those using them. Violets incite a predisposition to sympathy and devotion, geranium makes one audacious and bold, mint generates craft and business capabilities, while Vervain develops a killer for the fine arts.

A Rare Amulet. A jade amulet discovered at the San Juan de Teotihuacan pyramids, near Mexico City, had the following engraved Chinese inscription: "The golden fish that passes by the Dragon's gate is converted into a dragon." The Chinese legend readily interpreted the inscription, which is a quotation from a very old Chinese lyric.

Sedate Three Cheers. Conferring a degree on some distinguished person is the sedate way that college professors give three cheers.

Britain Unable to Stop Sacrifices of Humans

Many of the slaves still in bondage in the Burmo-Assamese border district are quite satisfied with their present state, and in fact resent the efforts of the English commissioners for the Northeast Frontier division of India to improve their conditions. The efforts of the government to suppress slavery and human sacrifice in the district have been hampered not only by the animosity of the slave owners but also by the slaves themselves, and very little has been accomplished.

Firth of Forth Bridge. A cantilever bridge erected over the Firth of Forth at Queensberry, Scotland, in 1883-1890, is famous on account of the length of its spans. The two main spans are each 1,710 feet long, and the total length of the bridge is 5,255 feet. The towers are 348 feet in height. The bridge contains 51,000 tons of steel, and the whole cost of construction was about $13,000,000.

WHERE WOODROW WILSON MAY REST FOREVER.

Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, Wash.

Although no definite plans have been made as to the permanent resting place of Woodrow Wilson, whose body has been placed temporarily in the crypt of the Bethlehem Chapel in the uncompleted Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, on Mount St. Albans, Washington, it is believed the body will eventually be placed forever in the Chapel of the Resurrection, immediately under the immense tower of the Cathedral, which was designed as an American Westminster Abbey. Here is the architect's drawing, showing how the Cathedral will appear when completed. It will be taller than the Washington monument and larger than St. Peter's.

Where Hot Air is Deadly. In Mesopotamia the "poison wind" or "sam" is a whirlwind of superheated air, which literally deals death to those it strikes. It travels almost with the directness and narrow path of a bullet, singling out perhaps a single individual. The person struck by it collapses almost immediately and may die if stimulants are not soon applied. It has the effect of causing heat apoplexy.

Frequently. Men survive many things that are not good for them and live to defy those who are aggravated about it.

Safford Talks to Hi-Y Club

Subject, "Why Does a Winner Win?"
—Hi-Y Basketball League Results—Senecas and Hokums Tied For First.

A regular Hi-Y Club meeting was held at the "Y" rooms last Wednesday night. Clayton led the devotion and read a portion of Paul's first letter to the Philippians.

President Voss then introduced Mr. Safford, the general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., who gave a very interesting address. The subject of the address was "Why Does a Winner Win?"

Mr. Safford said that a team must be built up on solid material, it must have the right vision in order to win consistently. A team must be worked along given lines.

"In taking up the subject of athletics, we should consider not only the physical side but the moral side as well. To win the game, honor is needed, gameness is needed and cleanliness is needed."

Mr. Safford said that he knew some great athletes. One was Charlie Brickley, the great Harvard star. The people in Brickley's family were all strong and upright. He had had a splendid record through high school and prep school and he really helped win some of the games. He is the sort of athlete that we like to see.

"In the race for the North Pole years ago, Cook returned first and said that he had reached it. One newspaper doubted him and started an investigation. Then Perry sent word from the north not to believe him. They doubted Cook because he had never played the game fair, and it always showed up. Cook is now in a penitentiary."

"In order to get ahead, whether in athletics or business, we must be on a square basis."

Mr. Safford then spoke of gameness, of the spirit which never says die. He told of the gameness of two pitchers who battled for 23 innings, the score being 1 to 1 till that time. Neither pitcher would give up. Each set his great spirit to work and did not quit.

Cleanliness is also required in athletics. It is being found that nearly all high schools and colleges are helping along a movement for clean sports.

The three things mentioned above, honor, gameness and cleanliness, are necessary in all athletics.

After Mr. Safford's speech, Mr. Perry led the discussion class. The Hi-Y league basketball games were then played. The Hokums easily beat the Hawks 24 to 11. Stumpf and Cranston starred for the Hokums. Avnet and Kelleher starred for the Hawks. The score: Hokums, FG. F.P. T.P. 24 11 11. Hawks, FG. F.P. T.P. 11 24 11.

Y. M. C. A. Volley Ball League

Much Interest Being Shown in Game Here—Although in Its Infancy Game Promises to Play Leading Role on Athletic Programs—Its Advantages.

There has been a great deal of interest lately manifested in the Volley Ball league at the Y. M. C. A. Large attendances at the contests on Saturday afternoon, show the interest of the public. The game has grown in popularity and now national tournaments are being held.

Volley Ball is a product of the Young Men's Christian Association. William G. Morgan of Holyoke, Mass. is the originator and inventor. The game has many advantages—it requires but little space—can be played indoors or out—can be adapted to small or large numbers—can be enjoyed by those of greater or lesser skill with little chance for bodily injury—equipment necessary is inexpensive.

In the Y. M. C. A. Volley Ball has seen its greatest growth and development until now it has developed into a highly scientifically played game. Grade schools, playground and recreation associations, western mining camps and universities have put it on their athletic program. Volley Ball is sometimes mistaken as a girls' game. The remark was made by the captain of a Pittsburgh team that the Pittsburgh Central won the first national tournament, because his men were "iron men."

There are four teams in the local Y. M. C. A. Volley Ball League which plays every Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The teams are captained by Messrs. DuPlon, Wicks, Longendyke and Crane. This coming Saturday afternoon the Chinamen are scheduled to play the Bankers and the Realtors are to play the Chandler's. Captain DuPlon of the Realtors is out after the Chandler's goat. He is greatly elated over his victory last week and hopes to duplicate it. The two winning teams of the league are to be banqueted by the losers.

Saturday night the Senior Sunday School Basketball League will play its games. The first game is between the Albany Avenue Baptist and the Clinton Avenue M. E. quintets, and starts at 7 o'clock. The second game will be called at 8 o'clock and is between the St. James M. E. and the Church of the Comforter squads. At 9 o'clock the Wurts Street Baptists meet the Elmendorf Street Presbyterians. Every one of these games promises to be a corker.

At 1 p. m. the St. James Jr. play the Church of the Redeemer Five. At 1:30 p. m. the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Junior League team plays the Clinton Avenue M. E. Junior League team. At 1:45 p. m. the Junior Church of the Comforter Five plays the First Dutch Reformed Juniors.

A small admission is charged to these games.

Following is the standing of the teams in both the Junior and Senior leagues:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Elmendorf St. Presby.	2	0	1.000
Wurts St. Baptists	1	0	1.000
